Executive Summary

The Family and Juvenile Law Advisory Committee proposes amending three rules and adopting, approving, and revising 30 Judicial Council forms, effective January 1, 2023, to finalize the implementation of Assembly Bill 153. AB 153 implements part IV of the federal Family First Prevention Services Act of 2018, which requires participating states to create a process of judicial review for each placement of a foster youth in a congregate care placement. This is the second time the proposal circulated for public comment. The proposal initially circulated in spring 2021, before AB 153 was signed into law. Additional requirements created by AB 153 for status review hearings and not addressed in the previous proposal are incorporated into this proposal.

Recommendation

The Family and Juvenile Law Advisory Committee recommends that the Judicial Council, effective January 1, 2023:

1. Amend rule 5.618 of the California Rules of Court to improve the efficiency and fairness of the procedure for juvenile courts to approve or disapprove a placement in a short-term residential therapeutic program or community treatment facility;
2. Amend rule 5.697 of the California Rules of Court regarding the disposition hearing for a nonminor to conform the rule to requirements related to Assembly Bill 153;
3. Amend rule 5.903 of the California Rules of Court regarding the nonminor dependent status review hearing to conform the rule to requirements related to AB 153 and eliminate statutory redundancy;
4. Adopt a new Judicial Council form, Notice of Request for Approval of Short-Term Residential Therapeutic Program or Community Treatment Facility Without a Hearing (form JV-240), to provide notice to parties of a request to review a short-term residential therapeutic program placement or community treatment facility without a hearing;
5. Approve a new Judicial Council form, Status Review Attachment: Sexual and Reproductive Health Services (form JV-459(A)) to address new required findings created by AB 153; and
6. Revise 28 Judicial Council forms to conform them to requirements related to AB 153 and the court's review of a placement in a short-term residential therapeutic program or community treatment facility and to make other revisions to improve consistency and accuracy:

Relevant Previous Council Action

At its meeting on October 1, 2021, the Judicial Council approved a proposal implementing Assembly Bill 153 (Committee on Budget; Stats. 2021, ch. 86), with the understanding that the Family and Juvenile Law Advisory Committee would circulate the proposal in 2022. The 2021 proposal circulated for comment based on trailer bill language that had not been finalized, to ensure that rules and forms related to Assembly Bill 153 would be in place on the effective date of October 1, 2021.

Analysis/Rationale

In 2018, the federal Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) was signed into law.¹ Part IV of the legislation addresses steps that participating states must take to safely reduce the inappropriate use of congregate care for children. The federal legislation requires that, for congregate care placements to be eligible for federal title IV-E funding, each placement of a foster youth in a congregate care setting must be reviewed and approved by a “family or juvenile court or another court (including a tribal court) of competent jurisdiction, or an administrative body appointed or approved by the court, independently.”² The act requires that participating states must implement its provisions no later than October 1, 2021.

California, which relies on federal funding to fund its short-term residential therapeutic program (STRTP) placements, elected to implement the requirements of part IV of the FFPSA to ensure that these placements remain eligible for federal funding. To meet the deadline of October 1, 2021, the California Department of Finance, in early 2021, introduced budget trailer bill language that would implement part IV of the FFPSA and thus bring California into compliance with the federal requirements. The trailer bill language was amended into Assembly Bill 153,³ which was signed into law on July 16, 2021. The requirements created by AB 153 are the subject of this proposal.

In the 2021 spring rules cycle, the Family and Juvenile Law Advisory Committee took the unusual step of circulating for comment the initial version of this proposal, which was based on the trailer bill language. This action was taken to ensure that juvenile courts would not be forced to implement impactful legislation effective October 1, 2021, without rules and forms in place. The committee was aware that the trailer bill language required the Judicial Council to adopt rules of court and develop or revise forms for the implementation of several of its provisions, and that courts would be faced with a brand-new process for STRTP placements starting on October 1, 2021. AB 153 was signed into law in July of 2021, after the 2021 spring rules cycle comment period and with significant changes that had not been circulated for comment.

This proposal would conform the rules and forms to additional new requirements that were created by AB 153 and not addressed when the proposal was circulated in the 2021 rules cycle. In addition, proposed changes to the process for reviewing STRTP placements would improve efficiency and promote compliance with the requirements of AB 153 and federal legislation. As noted above, the final version of the proposal was not circulated for public comment and is therefore being circulated in this cycle to meet the requirement that each proposal circulate for public comment.

Rules of court

The committee recommends that the Judicial Council revise rule 5.618 to improve efficiency, accuracy, and fairness of the judicial review of STRTP placements, and to ensure compliance with the requirements of AB 153 and federal legislation.

In addition, small revisions are recommended to rules 5.697 and 5.903, also related to the implementation of AB 153.

Rule 5.618

Rule 5.618 sets a procedural framework for the court's review of a STRTP placement. The committee proposes the following revisions to the rule.

Notice to parties. The list of individuals required to receive notice of the request for a hearing and for the hearing has been updated to include a nonminor dependent's guardian ad litem, the county counsel, the district attorney, the social worker or probation officer, and a nonminor dependent's legal guardian if they are receiving reunification services. In addition, a child's Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act (CAPTA) guardian ad litem has been added to the list for those situations described in rule 5.662 in which an attorney is not appointed for a child. A technical change was made to subdivision (b)(3) to clarify that notice be given to a child 10 years of and older consistent with noticing statutes in the Welfare and Institutions Code. And finally, a nonminor dependent's guardian ad litem, if one has been appointed consistent with Code of Civil Procedure section 372 and Probate Code sections 810–813, has also been added to the list of individuals required to receive notice (rule 5.618(b)(7)).

Submission of the report. Subdivision (d)(1) was updated to require the social worker or probation officer to “submit” the report to the court, as opposed to “file” the report with the court. This change was made to reflect the language in Welfare and Institutions Code sections 361.22(c)(1) and 727.12(c)(1).⁴

Parties who can object. The list of parties who can object to the placement has been updated to include the district attorney on the case, and the CAPTA guardian ad litem and a nonminor dependent's guardian ad litem as discussed above (rule 5.618(e)(1)). These additions are all considered parties to the case. The committee elected to give only parties the ability to object and therefore prevent the court from approving the placement without a hearing because parties are the ones who could be aggrieved by the court's decision.

Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a). A comment was received in the spring 2021 rules cycle questioning whether the rule's timeline for an objection from a party would be subject to Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a).⁵ The committee had to create a timeline on a very abbreviated time frame to meet the requirement that the hearing be held within 45 days of the start of the placement. The committee modeled the rule after other juvenile rules that likewise deal with abbreviated timelines due to the need to quickly respond to the needs of a child. And like many other juvenile rules, an abbreviated timeline required that responses from parties be received without the benefit of the extensions of Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a).⁶ The committee deferred how to best address Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a) to the next rules cycle.

⁴ All further statutory references are to the Welfare and Institutions Code unless otherwise indicated.

⁵ “[A]ny right or duty to do any act or make any response within any period or on a date certain after service of the document, which time period or date is prescribed by statute or rule of court, shall be extended five calendar days, upon service by mail, if the place of address and the place of mailing is within the State of California, 10 calendar

The last sentence of Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a) states, “This extension applies in the absence of a specific exception provided for by this section or other statute or rule of court.” Because the statute allows for exceptions in a rule of court, the committee proposes that rule 5.618(f)(1)(C) be updated to clarify that “Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a) does not apply to this deadline.” An advisory committee comment was also added to the rule, indicating that the reason for the exception to Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a) is based on the exigency required by the timelines of sections 361.22 and 727.12 and the need for a prompt resolution of the youth’s placement status in an STRTP or community treatment facility.

Community Treatment Facility. Further legislation addressing the STRTP review process was signed into law on June 26, 2022, with an effective date of June 30, 2022.⁷ Assembly Bill 187 (Committee on Budget; Stats. 2022, ch. 50) added Community Treatment Facilities (CTFs)⁸ as placements that require review by the juvenile court consistent with FFPSA and sections 361.22 and 727.12. Rule 5.618 and forms related to the STRTP review process have been updated to reference CTFs as placements that require review just as do STRTP placements. The bill makes no other substantive changes to the court review process except for some minor adjustments to days if either the place of mailing or the place of address is outside the State of California but within the United States, and 20 calendar days if either the place of mailing or the place of address is outside the United States.” (Code Civ. Proc., § 1013(a)).

⁶ For example, for a hearing to review a child’s removal from their school of origin, rule 5.651(e)(2)(A)(i) requires that the request for a hearing by the child’s attorney be filed within two court days of receiving notice of the placement change. For a hearing to review an out-of-county placement, a parent has seven calendar days to object and request a hearing after receiving notice of the placement change. The court must hold a hearing not later than five calendar days after the objection is received and before the placement. (Welf. & Inst. Code, § 361.2(h).) A request for review of a presumptive transfer waiver determination must be made within seven court days of the petitioner’s being noticed of the placing agency’s determination on the request for waiver of presumptive transfer. A hearing can be set no later than five court days after the request for a hearing was filed. (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 5.647(b)(3) & (c)(1).)

⁷ The bill is accessible at https://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/billTextClient.xhtml?bill_id=202120220AB187.

⁸ A community treatment facility is “any residential facility that provides mental health treatment services to children in a group setting and that has the capacity to provide secure containment.” (Health & Saf. Code, § 1502(a)(8)). CTFs are licensed by the California Department of Social Services and have a mental health program certified by the Department of Health Care Services. CTFs often serve as an alternative to state hospital stays or out-of-state placement and enable children with mental health needs to receive treatment in a less restrictive setting. Approximately 60 foster youth are in CTF placements in California.

section 727.12, which have been updated in rule 5.618.⁹ The committee considered whether form names should be updated to reference a shorthand for STRTP and CTF, such as “congregate care facility.” But the committee voted to reference the full name of STRTP and CTF in the form titles because doing so was the most accurate, even though the form names would be longer.

Rules 5.903 and 5.697

These rules are proposed to be amended because the requirements for hearings that these rules address have been changed by AB 153. The committee recommends that each rule be revised to refer to the statutory requirements for these items, as opposed to creating a duplicate list of the statutes’ requirements. Doing so will ensure that the rule will not have to be updated each time the legislation changes. Those portions of the rule that are contained in the statute were removed and replaced with a reference to the applicable Welfare and Institutions Code section; however, the requirements of rule 5.903 first recommended by the Family and Juvenile Law Advisory Committee and adopted by the Judicial Council in 2011 that are not in statute will remain in the rule. A similar update was not required for rule 5.708 (General review hearing requirements) because the rule already cross-references the applicable statutes.¹⁰

Forms related to the STRTP review and status review hearings

The committee proposes that a new form be adopted and five Judicial Council forms related to the review of STRTP placements be revised. These forms address (1) the placing agency’s request for a hearing; (2) an objection from a party to the STRTP placement, or input from parties and nonparties on the STRTP placement; (3) the proof of service; (4) the order scheduling the hearing; and (5) the court’s findings and orders after the hearing. The committee recommends the forms be mandatory (with the exception of the form addressing the court’s order for hearing) to promote consistency and accuracy of the process around the state.

In addition, the committee recommends that 22 status review forms be updated to implement new requirements created under AB 153, to make other updates to ensure forms are consistent with the Welfare and Institutions Code and to ensure there is consistency between forms. One new form is also proposed to implement new requirements at status review hearings created under AB 153.

New form JV-240

One of the most important features of rule 5.618 is its fulfillment of the statutory mandate that the rule includes a process to approve a STRTP or CTF placement without a hearing.¹¹ In last year's rules cycle, the committee paid careful attention to creating this process. A process was created that requires the report to be served 10 court days before the hearing, and if no party objects within 5 court days of receiving the report, the court may approve the placement and vacate the hearing date.

⁹ Assembly Bill 187 updated section 727.12(b)(2) to require that the probation officer serve the request for a hearing on the Court Appointed Special Advocate. And 727.12(e)(3) was updated to require the court to determine if a STRTP or CTF level of care is consistent with the short- and long-term mental and behavioral health goals and permanency plan for the minor or nonminor dependent. Rule 5.618 and the forms have been updated with these changes, where necessary.

¹⁰ Rule 5.708 requires that reports include “[a] factual discussion of each item listed in sections 366.1 and 366.21(c),” so the updates by AB 153 are reflected by the reference to the statute.

The rule, however, did not require that any notice be provided that a request for approval without a hearing is being made. Forms that are distributed to parties provide information that the placement could be approved if no party objects.¹² But for parties and for the court, determining when approval without a hearing is being requested may be difficult.

To make sure parties are clearly aware that a request is being made to approve the placement without a hearing, the committee is recommending the adoption of new mandatory form, Notice of Request for Approval of Short-Term Residential Therapeutic Program or Community Treatment Facility Without a Hearing (form JV-240), attached on page 39, and recommending that rule 5.618(f)(1)(B) be amended to require that the form be served on parties along with the report.

Modifications to STRTP review forms

In addition to several technical edits, the following modifications are proposed for the forms addressing the court's review of a STRTP or CFT placement.¹³ All changes are highlighted on the attached forms found on pages 31–39.

Placement address. The request for review (form JV-235) may not provide enough specificity as to which placement is being reviewed because it requires the name of the placement only. This could cause an issue when a STRTP is part of an agency that has multiple homes. Including the address of the STRTP in the identifying information in the form would therefore provide the level of specificity needed. If the placement is confidential under section 308, the form indicates that the information can be provided by using Confidential Information (form JV-287).

List of reasons for court's determination. Sections 361.22(e)(6) and 727.12(e)(6) require the court to "[m]ake a finding, either in writing or on the record, of the basis for its determinations pursuant to this subdivision." The committee elected to include on form JV-239 a list of typical reasons for the court's determination that the court can check to meet this requirement. Item 10 on form JV-239 has been updated with a list of typical reasons for the court's determination to approve or disapprove the placement, along with the option for the court to write out the reasons for the court's determination not included on the list.

Introductory paragraph of form JV-236. The introductory paragraph was updated to provide additional clarification on the review of the placement without a hearing. A reference to ¹² The request for review (form JV-235) does provide parties notice that the placing agency will be requesting approval of the placement without a hearing in item 4. Forms JV-235 and JV-236 also provide advisements to parties that the placement could be approved without a hearing if certain conditions are met.

proposed new form JV-240 was added, alerting parties that they will receive this notice if a request is made to approve the placement without a hearing. A similar reference was added to the concluding paragraph of form JV-235.

Forms related to status review hearings

The following discussion addresses updates to 23 status review forms¹⁴ to implement new requirements under AB 153 and other changes to improve consistency with the Welfare and Institutions Code and among forms. Many of the forms circulated for comment a second time because they were part of the initial proposal and were updated after the initial proposal's comment period.¹⁵ Other forms were added to the proposal for the first time, and one new form was created to implement the requirements of AB 153.

AB 153 created two new sets of findings that the court will need to consider at status review hearings.¹⁶ These new subdivisions both require that “[o]n or before January 1, 2023, the Judicial Council shall amend and adopt rules of court and develop appropriate forms for the implementation of this subparagraph.”

Sexual and reproductive health services. AB 153 created a requirement at status review hearings that the court review the placing agency's responsibility to provide sexual and reproductive health information.¹⁷ The finding is not required for every foster youth but is required “[f]or a child who is 10 years of age or older, is in junior high, middle, or high school, and has been under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court for a year or longer, or a nonminor dependent.”

Because these findings are not required for every foster youth, and because the required findings are lengthy, the committee recommends that a new form be created for use as an attachment, to be used for those hearings at which the findings are required.¹⁸ The proposed Status Review Attachment: Sexual and Reproductive Health Services (form JV-459(A)) is attached on page 118.

¹⁵ One form from the spring cycle (form JV-410) did not circulate for comment because no further updates were made to the form after the comment period, and it does not require additional AB 153 updates. This form has been updated with technical amendments consistent with issues discussed below and included in the final report to the Judicial Council, but the committee determined it does not require recirculation under rule 10.22(d)(2) because the changes are minor substantive change that are unlikely to create controversy.

¹⁶ See section 366(a)(1)(F) and (G).

¹⁷ Section 366(a)(1)(F).

To indicate to the court when the attachment is required, the status review forms have the following new item added:

- For a child who is 10 years of age or older; is in junior high, middle, or high school; and has been under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court for a year or longer, Status Review Attachment: Sexual and Reproductive Health Services (form JV-459(A)) has been completed and is attached.

Education findings. AB 153 amended section 366 to require the court to consider new information and make findings related to the provisions of support for foster youth as they pursue secondary education. The following findings from section 366(a)(1)(G)(i) must be addressed by the court:

For a child who is 16 years of age or older or for a nonminor dependent, whether the social worker or probation officer has, pursuant to the requirements of paragraph (22) of subdivision (g) of Section 16501.1, identified the person or persons who shall be responsible for assisting the child or nonminor dependent with applications for postsecondary education and related financial aid, or that the child or nonminor dependent stated that they do not want to pursue postsecondary education, including career or technical education.

Because this finding is required at a status review hearing, it will need to be included in many of the forms in this proposal. The finding was added to status review forms where the finding is required. The finding as displayed on the forms requires the court to identify the name of the support person or persons who have been identified to assist the youth in pursuing postsecondary education.

Additional forms added to proposal. Incorporated in this proposal are four additional forms¹⁹ that were not part of the proposal in the 2021 spring rules cycle. These additions were required because the findings of AB 153 would be required for status review hearings for cases in reunification regardless of whether the youth was returned home or remained in foster care.²⁰ Status review forms for cases in reunification are divided into multiple attachments to address the different possible outcomes during reunification, with a parent form that includes the findings

¹⁹ The additional forms include:

- Findings and Orders After Six-Month Status Review Hearing (form JV-430);
- Findings and Orders After 12-Month Permanency Hearing (form JV-435);
- Findings and Orders After 18-Month Permanency Hearing (form JV-440); and
- Findings and Orders After 24-Month Permanency Hearing (form JV-455).

²⁰ The STRTP status review hearing requirements (see Welf. & Inst. Code, §§ 366.1(l)(1)-(3), 706.5(c)(1)(B)(i)-(iii)) that led to the initial expansion of forms in the proposal are only required to be made when the youth remains placed in the STRTP, implicating only those forms in which the youth remains in foster care; however, the reproductive health rights findings and education findings would be required whether the minor remains in foster care or not.

that would be required regardless of whether the youth returns home. These parent forms are included in this proposal so that the AB 153 findings can be added to them.

Other form revisions

In addition to the AB 153 findings mentioned above, the forms are being updated to promote consistency in several respects and with other substantive updates.

Statutory citations. All forms have been updated to make the format of statutory citations consistent. A full citation is provided in the statutory reference at the bottom of the form, for example, “Welfare and Institutions Code, §.” The rest of the form uses the abbreviated citation “Welf. & Inst. Code, §.” If a code section cited in the form is not spelled out with a full citation at the bottom of the form, then that code section is spelled out in full, for example, “Family Code section.”²¹ Juvenile forms tend to be legally complex as they are primarily used by courts to document findings and orders of court proceedings. The committee determined that abbreviated citations were appropriate because juvenile forms are already very long with frequent references to the Welfare and Institutions Code. A full citation for every statutory reference would increase the length of the forms and make forms more cumbersome for courts and parties who are represented by attorneys able to help explain the courts’ orders.

Court’s signature. The court’s signature line was updated to be consistent across the forms. The forms have all been updated to use only the “Judicial Officer” title underneath the signature line, keeping the countersignature line on the forms where that is needed (the detention forms, where a removal order by a referee requires approval by a judge of the juvenile court).²²

Gender references. Gender references have been removed consistent with the Judicial Council’s commitment to use nonbinary language in its forms. The committee determined, however, that references to “mother” and “father” are still necessary because the Welfare and Institutions Code uses these designations, which often have legal implications, and, therefore, the Legislature should address this issue first. But forms are being updated with an additional “Other” option where a list of parents is provided, to allow for the inclusion of nonbinary parents and same-sex parents.

Appearance by child. The section on the forms addressing the appearance of a child who is 10 years old or older at the hearing is being updated to reflect the requirements of section 349(d), ensuring proper notice and giving the court the option to continue the hearing to ensure the child can be present or make a finding that it is not in the best interests of the child to continue the hearing.

In addition, several substantive legal issues have been addressed in the form revisions.

²¹ These changes are also being made to the forms related to the STRTP review process discussed in this proposal.

²² See Welf. & Inst. Code, § 249.

Return home at postpermanency hearing. A juvenile law practitioner in 2020 noted that form JV-446 does not include an option to return the child home at a postpermanency hearing. Section 366.3 includes several provisions that indicate that return to a parent is a germane issue at a postpermanency hearing.²³ Section 366.3(f) also indicates there is a presumption that continued care is in the best interests of the child and goes on to state that this presumption can be overcome if the parents prove by a preponderance of the evidence that further efforts at reunification are in the child's best interests.

The committee considered this issue and recommended that the form be updated to provide for these possible outcomes. Check boxes have been added for an order returning the child to the home of the parent or guardian, an order for family maintenance services if necessary, and custody orders if necessary. A check box has also been added for an order for family reunification services under section 366.3(f).

Sibling under three and termination of services at six months. Forms related to the disposition hearing and six-month reunification hearing are updated to comply with the requirements of section 361.5(a)(1)(C) when reunification services are terminated at the six-month review hearing for a sibling group that includes a child who was under the age of three at removal. According to the recent case W.P. v. Superior Court, section 361.5(a)(1)(C) requires that to terminate services at the six-month review, the siblings must have been removed at the same time and remain placed together.²⁴ Forms related to the disposition hearing and the six-month status review (forms JV-421 JV-432, and JV-433) were updated with this information. The changes include adding language that the sibling group was removed "at the same time" and "are placed together."

In addition, Six-Month Permanency Attachment: Reunification Services Continued (form JV-432), addressing the continuation of services for this classification of youth at the six-month review, has been updated. The current version of the form requires a finding of a substantial probability of return to continue services to the 12-month review for a child under three years of

²³ Section 366.3 requires the court to consider several findings that contemplate the minor could be a candidate to return to their home, including the following required findings:

- Whether continued placement remains necessary;
- The extent of progress the parents or legal guardians have made toward alleviating or mitigating the causes necessitating placement in foster care; and
- The likely date by which the child may be returned to, and safely maintained in, the home (§ 366.3(e)(1), (7) & (8).)

A court must also consider all permanency planning options for the child, "including whether the child should be returned to the home of the parent" (§ 366.3(h), italics added).

age or member of a sibling group at removal. However, section 366.21(e)(3) requires that to terminate services in this situation, the court must first find by clear and convincing evidence that the parent failed to participate regularly and make substantive progress in a court-ordered treatment plan.²⁵ If the parent then proves a substantial probability of return, the court must continue services. The form has been updated to reflect these requirements.

Important individuals. The findings in form JV-446, item 24, related to the identification of important individuals to the child, have been updated to reflect the requirement for this finding that a child be 10 years of age and in out-of-home placement for six months or longer, reflecting the statutory language of section 366.3(e)(2). The current version of the form indicates the findings are required if the child is age 10 or older. In other forms, the language that the child has been in out-of-home placement for six months was removed, because the language is not in section 366.21, 366.22, or 366.25 and would be superfluous when holding a 12-month, 18-month, or 24-month reunification review hearing.

In addition, the code requires different findings depending on the hearing and the case status. For instance, sections 366.21(g)(5)(B), 366.22(a)(3), and 366.25(a)(3) require “reasonable efforts” to maintain relationships to individuals important to the child when the court is terminating reunification services, while section 366.3(e)(2) does not require a reasonable efforts finding.²⁶ And section 366(a)(1)(B) requires the finding related to important individuals to be made in the context of the court’s reasonable efforts finding.²⁷ The important individual finding is addressed in 10 status review forms.

Division of Juvenile Justice commitment. The committee recommends that item 9 on Custodial and Out-of-Home Placement Disposition Attachment (form JV-667), addressing the court’s order placing the minor in the Division of Juvenile Justice (DJJ), be removed. Under Senate Bill 823

²⁵ § 366.21(e)(3): “If the child was under three years of age on the date of the initial removal, or is a member of a sibling group described in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 361.5, and the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the parent failed to participate regularly and make substantive progress in a court-ordered treatment plan, the court may schedule a hearing pursuant to Section 366.26 within 120 days. If, however, the court finds there is a substantial probability that the child, who was under three years of age on the date of initial removal or is a member of a sibling group described in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 361.5, may be returned to his or her parent or legal guardian within six months or that reasonable services have not been provided, the court shall continue the case to the 12-month permanency hearing.”

²⁶ The current version of form JV-446 already includes the requirements of section 366.3(e)(2) and does not need to be updated (see item 24). But language has been added to clarify that the findings are required if the child is 10 years of age or older.

²⁷ The court must determine “[t]he extent of the agency’s compliance with the case plan in making reasonable efforts, or, in the case of a child 16 years of age or older with another planned permanent living arrangement, the ongoing and intensive efforts, to return the child to a safe home and to complete any steps necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child, including efforts to maintain relationships between a child who is 10 years of age or older and who has been in an out-of-home placement for six months or longer, and individuals other than the child’s siblings who are important to the child, consistent with the child’s best interests” (italics added).

(Stats. 2020, ch. 337, §§ 23, 24),²⁸ section 607 was repealed and replaced with a new section 607, prohibiting the intake of wards into DJJ starting July 1, 2021.

Indian Child Welfare Act inquiry in wardship proceeding. The committee proposes that Initial Appearance Hearing—Juvenile Delinquency (form JV-642) be updated to address inquiry requirements under Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA). The Supreme Court, in In re W.B., clarified that ICWA notice is required only in circumscribed situations in a delinquency proceeding involving a youth in foster care or at risk of entering foster care, but “California law requires the court to inquire about a child’s Indian status at the outset of all juvenile proceedings.”²⁹ The committee therefore recommended that a similar format for ICWA inquiry contained in form JV-410 (items 9 and 10),³⁰ the detention form for dependency cases, be included on form JV-642.

Reasonable efforts to locate a missing child. The committee elected to include additional short, modified findings in status review forms for when a child is missing from placement and has not been located. Although not explicitly required in statute, the committee recommends including these modified findings to ensure that when courts make reasonable efforts findings, or determine that placement is necessary and appropriate, they take into account the child’s status as missing when doing so. Delinquency status review forms in this proposal³¹ already include this modified language, which has been on those forms since their inception in 2012. In addition, the committee also recommends similar modified findings on status review forms addressing those situations in which the youth is in custody at time of the hearing. As mentioned, these modified findings will help ensure that courts take into account the child’s status when making these important findings.

Advisement of appellate rights. The committee recommends removing an information box on appellate rights contained at the end of several forms in this proposal. The information box relates to a former subdivision (a) of rule 5.590, which did not require that parents be mailed an advisement of appellate rights if they were not present at the hearing. The boxes were added to the forms to make parents aware that they would not be advised of appellate rights if they did not appear at the hearing. Rule 5.590 was revised effective January 1, 2020, to require the mailing of the appellate advisement if the parent was not present; therefore, the information box on the forms is no longer necessary.³²

Ongoing and intensive efforts. Forms related to the termination of reunification services include a finding that ongoing and intensive efforts (O&I) were provided if the child is placed in another planned permanent living arrangement (APPLA).³³ The committee recommends that this finding be removed.

The O&I finding is required for a youth over the age of 16 and placed in an APPLA. An APPLA can be ordered at a hearing where reunification services are terminated if there is a compelling reason for not setting a section 366.26 hearing, but in these situations, those code sections addressing reunification review hearings do not require the court to make the O&I finding the same day the APPLA is ordered.³⁴ The reasonable efforts and O&I findings are backward-looking findings, meaning that the court is considering the efforts of the agency for the prior six months. A court would not be able to review O&I efforts when the permanent plan of APPLA is being ordered the same day.

Out-of-state residential facilities. One of AB 153's principal objectives was to curtail and eventually eliminate the placement of foster youth in out-of-state residential facilities (OSRFs).³⁵ Starting January 1, 2023 (the same date this proposal would become effective), AB 153 requires that all OSRFs be decertified and all foster youth be returned to California.³⁶

Family Code section 7911(d) precludes the possibility of a placement in an OSRF starting on the effective date of this proposal. The committee, therefore, recommends that forms be updated to eliminate the option of placement in an OSRF. The four delinquency forms in this proposal include findings related to OSRFs, and the committee recommends these be removed.³⁷ Keeping the findings on the forms might signal to courts that these placements would still be permissible.

Policy implications

As described above, the committee had to circulate the proposal for a second time because the final proposal in last year's rules cycle had not yet circulated for comment. Revisiting the proposal provided another opportunity to make updates to improve the process to review STRTP placements and to incorporate legal updates made by AB 153 in the numerous status review forms.

³³ Forms JV-440, JV-455, and JV-674.

³⁴ Sections 366.21, 366.22, and 366.25 do not address O&I efforts, but do require the court to list barriers to achieving the permanent plan as of the hearing date. Section 366(a) requires a finding of O&I efforts if the permanent plan is APPLA, but as discussed above, when APPLA is ordered the same day, there cannot be a review of that finding for the preceding six months the case was in reunification.

One of the issues the committee revisited was the procedure in the rule permitting a court to approve an STRTP placement without a hearing. AB 153 required the Judicial Council to create a process for approval of a placement without hearing. In creating this process, the committee was concerned with ensuring the parties have the chance for meaningful input and due process before the court vacates the hearing. To accomplish these ends, the committee created a separate timeline that would give parties sufficient time to review the report and prepare a response. The committee did not believe that seven calendar days was a sufficient amount of time for party responses, so a separate timeline was created. This approach ensures that due process for parties is provided, because they will get a day in court if there is an objection from a party. Given the challenges presented by the timelines in this process, the committee also kept in the rule the option to allow courts to create their own process in lieu of the process in the rule of court, through local rules that can reflect their own unique circumstances.

Comments

The proposal circulated for public comment from April 1 to May 13, 2022, as part of the regular spring comment cycle. Eleven organizations submitted comments. Five agreed with the proposal if modified, three agreed with the proposal as is, and three did not indicate a position. A chart with the full text of all comments received and the committee's responses is attached at pages 150.

Approval without a hearing when objections are received. A presiding juvenile judge commented that courts should be able to approve a placement without a hearing even if objections are received. The commenter noted that this type of approval would be in line with other decisions that judges make ex parte after receiving objections, including the approval or disapproval of psychotropic medications and section 827 petitions. The committee determined that the requirement that a hearing should be required when an objection is received to ensure that parties have the opportunity to be heard in court when there is a disagreement with the STRTP placement, given that STRTPs are the most restrictive level of placement and it is important to a foster youth, parent or legal guardian to be heard in court.

Mandatory v. Optional forms. Before the comment cycle, the committee revisited the issue of whether the forms related to the STRTP review should be mandatory or optional. A request for specific comment was made on whether these forms should be mandatory or optional. Responses were mixed, with five commenters saying the forms should be mandatory, one commenter saying the forms should be optional, and two agreeing with the recommendation of the committee of making Order on Placement in Short-Term Residential Therapeutic Program (form JV-239) mandatory and the rest of the forms optional. The committee elected to keep the forms mandatory to promote uniformity in STRTP review hearings and consistency in pleadings.³⁸ In addition, as a commenter noted, important information for parties is contained on some of the forms. If the forms were optional, parties would not always get the benefit of receiving this information.

Timelines. The Superior Court of San Diego County noted that having two timelines in rule 5.618 is confusing and that having one timeline would limit confusion. The comment was referring to the timeline for the serving and filing of the report when approval is requested without a hearing, which requires that the report be served and filed 10 court days before the hearing, as opposed to 7 calendar days before the hearing required by sections 361.22 and 727.12.

In the last rules cycle, the committee paid close attention to creating this process. One of the important considerations of the committee was to ensure that parties have a chance to be heard, which required that parties be given sufficient time to review the report and prepare a response. After consideration of the comment, the committee elected to keep the 10-court-day timeline currently contained in the rule, requiring the report to be served 10 court days before the hearing, giving parties 5 court days to respond with an objection.

Voluntary STRTP placements. County Counsel of Sacramento County raised the issue of whether a voluntary placement of a youth in a STRTP, before the filing of a petition,³⁹ requires review under FFPSA and should therefore be addressed in the rule. The commenter noted that there is confusion in these situations, leading some social workers to file petitions to ensure that the STRTP placement is reviewed by the juvenile court. The commenter suggested that “Rule 5.618 or Rule 5.514 should require the establishment of a process, similar to Rule 5.514(b)(3) for the voluntary placement of Indian children, to assist counties in understanding how to work with courts to secure funding for voluntary placements.” The commenter suggested that the Interagency Placement Committee in each county could be responsible for the review of these placements.

FFPSA requires that “a family or juvenile court or another court (including a tribal court) of competent jurisdiction, or an administrative body appointed or approved by the court” review each congregate care placement. (42 U.S.C. § 675a(c)(2).) Assembly Bill 153 did not specify a process to review STRTP placements when the court did not have jurisdiction; neither did it address the court’s appointing an administrative body for these situations.

The committee believes that an administrative body could review these placements and be compliant with the FFPSA but that this is a matter for the Legislature to address as opposed to a rule of court. The Welfare and Institutions Code has specific provisions for when administrative panels can be used,⁴⁰ but administrative review of voluntary STRTP placements is not contemplated by the code. The committee does not believe that a rule of court could create a process where a juvenile court, without jurisdiction, reviews placements without the Welfare and Institutions Code addressing the process.

³⁸ With the exception of Notice of Hearing on Placement in Short-Term Residential Therapeutic Program or Community Treatment Facility (form JV-238), which is proposed remain optional. The JV-238 is a form the court may use to notice parties of the hearing but courts may have a local process or procedure already in place and the committee elected to give court’s greater flexibility in this regard.

Timeline for the filing of an objection. Rule 5.618 does not include a timeline for when an objection must be filed, but instead “Local county practice and local rules of court determine the procedures for completing, filing, and serving form JV-236, except as otherwise provided in this rule.” (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 5.618(e)(4).) A request for specific comment was made on this issue asking whether a timeline should be added to the rule. Four commenters said the rule should include a timeline, and three said that it should not. The committee elected to maintain the rule with no specified timeline for the filing of the objection because no issues had been noted with the lack of the timeline and it gave courts some flexibility in receiving objections.

Alternatives considered

The committee never considered not proceeding with the proposal because the final version of the proposal did not circulate in the initial proposal and because not all updates required by AB 153 were completed in the initial proposal. The committee considered various issues related to the proposal described above, including whether forms should be mandatory or optional and the process to approve the placement without a hearing. The committee elected to make these forms mandatory when adopted following the Spring 2021 cycle so there would be a consistent and more predictable process for courts addressing a new type of hearing. When it circulated this proposal for comment the committee elected to circulate the forms as optional, because committee members noted that mandatory forms worked initially but some committee members believed that courts would benefit from more flexibility after more experience in holding these hearings was gained. Other committee members however preferred that the forms remain mandatory because the forms made the process more predictable for courts and practitioners. After having considered the comments received, the committee elected to maintain the forms related to the STRTP review process as mandatory (with the exception of the court’s order for a hearing, form JV-238), because many courts indicated that the process benefits from mandatory forms.

Fiscal and Operational Impacts

New hearings reviewing STRTP and CTF placements will create new costs for the courts. However, this impact has more to do with the implementation part IV of the Family First Prevention Services Act and AB 153 than it does the rules and forms proposal. The proposed new and revised rules and forms will provide greater clarity and uniformity for the proceedings that courts have been holding since October 1, 2021, and it is anticipated that this clarity and uniformity will ease the fiscal and operational impacts that the courts would have faced had this proposal not been offered.

29 placement within 5 court days of receiving the report described in 30 section 361.22(c) or 727.12(c). Code of Civil Procedure section 31 1013(a) does not apply to this deadline; and

32
33 (D) Based on the information before the court, the court intends to approve 34 the placement consistent with section 361.22(e) or 727.12(e) and (g) of 35 this rule.

37 (2) If the court approves the placement without a hearing, it must notify the 38 individuals in (c) of the court's decision to approve the placement and vacate 39 the hearing set under section 361.22(d)(1) or 727.12(d)(1).

40
41 (3) Nothing in this subdivision precludes the court from holding a hearing when 42 no objection to the placement is received.

(4) Notwithstanding (1)–(3), the court may approve the placement without a hearing under a local rule of court if the local rule is adopted under the procedures in rule 10.613 and meets the following requirements:

(A) The rule ensures that, before the hearing date, the placing agency has filed form JV-237 verifying that the parties listed in (e)(1) were served, no later than 10 court days before the hearing date, a copy of the report described in section 361.22(c) or 727.12(c) and form JV-240 no later than 10 court days before the hearing date;

(B) The rule ensures the court does not approve the placement until all the parties listed in (e)(1), after receiving the report, have been given an opportunity to indicate to the court their position on the placement through form JV-236; and

~~(C) The rule ensures the court's approval is consistent with section 361.22(e) or 727.12(e) and (g) of this rule; and~~

~~(D)~~(C) The rule ensures that the approval occurs no later than 60 days from the start of the placement.

(g) Conduct of the hearing

(1) In addition to the report described in section 361.22(c) or 727.12(c), the court ~~may~~ must consider all evidence relevant to the court's determinations ~~of~~ required under section 361.22(e)(2), (3) and (4) or 727.12(e)(2), (3) and (4) and whether the placement in the short-term residential therapeutic program or community treatment facility is consistent with the child's or nonminor dependent's best interest.

(2) The court must make the ~~findings~~ determinations in section 361.22(e)(2) and (3) or 727.12(e)(2) and (3) by a preponderance of the evidence.

(3) The court must approve or disapprove the placement based on the determinations required by section ~~366.22~~ 361.22(e)(2), (3) and (4) or 727.12(e)(2), (3) and (4) and whether it appears that the child's or nonminor dependent's best interest will be promoted by the placement.

(4) If the court continues the hearing for good cause, including for an evidentiary hearing, in no event may the hearing be continued beyond 60 days after the start of the placement.

Advisory Committee Comment

2 The exception to Code of Civil Procedure section 1013(a) in subdivision (f)(1)(C) was created
3 because of the exigency required by the timelines of sections 361.22 and 727.12 and the need for 4 a prompt resolution of the youth's placement status in a short-term residential therapeutic
5 program or community treatment facility.

1.	Children’s Law Center of CA By Luciana Svidler Senior Policy Attorney	AM	JV-459(A) - pg. 110 Missing “or a nonminor dependent” The code reads: For a child who is 10 years of age or older, is in junior high, middle, or high school, and has been under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court for a year or longer, or a nonminor dependent. court rule should reflect WIC language.	The omission of nonminor dependent was intentional on the JV-459(A) form. The JV-459(A) was created as an attachment for status review hearings for foster youth under the age of eighteen, because the findings will only be required for a subset of foster youth under the age of eighteen as described in Welfare and Institutions Code section 366(a)(1)(F). However, as Welfare and Institutions Code section 366(a)(1)(F) indicates, the findings are always required for a nonminor dependents, and the findings therefore need to be considered at every status review for a nonminor dependent. The findings are therefore contained as a required finding in forms related to nonminor dependent status review hearings (JV-461(A) and JV-462) as opposed to including them on the JV-459(A) attachment form.
2.	John Burton Advocates for Youth by Amy Lemley Executive Director	A	On behalf of John Burton Advocates for Youth, I am writing to express strong support for the proposed revisions to Judicial Council forms designed to implement the changes to WIC §16501.1(g)(22) and relevant changes pertaining to foster youths’ sexual and reproductive health services as defined in Assembly Bill 153. The proposed changes to existing status review forms and the creation of Status Review Attachment: Sexual and Reproductive Health Services (form JV-459(A)) not only accurately capture changes to these sections of the Welfare and Institutions Code	The committee appreciates this comment and agrees that the findings will help ensure that foster youth receive critical support with postsecondary educational planning and access to age-appropriate sexual and reproductive education and health services.

3.	Department of Family and Children's Services by Rebecca Siporen Los Angeles County Counsel Deputy County Counsel	AM	Should the JV forms be mandatory or optional? The forms should be mandatory as the identified vehicle in requesting the court set an STRTP hearing. The forms are simple for the primary children's social worker to complete therefore reducing the delays in initiating this process. The court clerk's office is currently utilizing the JV 237 list of addresses to notice all parties for the STRTP hearing.	The committee agrees the forms should remain mandatory to ensure that statutory requirements related to the hearing are uniformly applied, and to ensure that parties benefit from the information contained in JV-235, JV-236 and JV-240.
			Should the JV 235 include the placement address? Yes as indicated in the Invitation to Comment, there are several STRTP's which have different locations therefore if a youth is placed from one residence to another, within the same agency, this will allow the court to differentiate between the two different STRTP placements. The court has, on multiple occasion, taken a hearing off calendar as they are under the impression it is the same STRTP the youth was placed in when in fact it was not and requires the courts approval. This has led to delays in court proceedings/approvals and has been a work load impact when these time of incidents have occurred to get the matter back on	The committee agrees and has elected to include the placement address on the form to identify the specific Short-Term Residential Therapeutic Program (STRTP) placement being reviewed by the juvenile court. A STRTP is a congregate care setting where a child lives for a short period of time to address acute behavioral health needs before moving back to a family-based setting (Welfare and Institutions Code section 11400(ad) defines a short-term residential therapeutic program as "a nondetention, licensed community care facility, as defined in paragraph (18) of subdivision (a) of Section 1502 of the Health and Safety Code, that provides an integrated program of specialized and intensive

The request for the court's approval of this placement should reflect the need of the youth at the time of placement and for the length of time the youth remained in placement. The youth's current location status at the time of the STRTP hearing, usually scheduled 45 days after date of placement, should not be a reason for a denial. The State has clarified, if a STRTP is denied, the placement is only eligible for federal funding for 14 days from date of placement. 4.	Orange County Bar Association by Daniel S. Robinson President	A	Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose? It does but the process required is still burdensome requiring five forms and noticing parties three times.	The committee appreciates that the process can be burdensome with the multiple forms and notice requirements. This however has a lot to do with the noticing requirements of Welfare and Institutions Code sections 361.22 and 727.12. Subdivision (b)(1) requires the placing agency to request a hearing within five calendar days of a placement in a STRTP. Form JV-235 was created to meet this requirement, not to add a new requirement not in statute. Subdivision (d) further requires the court to set a hearing within 45 days of the request for a hearing and to notice the parties of the hearing date. Subdivision (c) requires the placing agency to prepare a report and serve on the parties no later than seven calendar days prior to the hearing. The forms were created to meet these requirements and did not add new notice requirements not in statute. The only new process created in the rule is what the Legislature directed the Judicial Council to do in subdivision (h), which was to create a process to review STRTP placements without a hearing. These requirements are contained in subdivision (f) of California Rules of Court, rule 5.618.

			Should form JV-235 include the placement address? No. It can be provided upon request.	The committee has elected to include the placement address on form JV-235 to ensure that the court is approving or disapproving the appropriate STRTP placement as foster youth often change STRTP placements and the court is required to review each placement. The committee notes that some STRTP's are agencies with multiple homes, so naming the STRTP agency may not provide enough information. If the placement is confidential, the placement address can be submitted separately on JV-287.
			Should form JV-446 address the return of the minor to the home of the parent or legal guardian? Return to a parent is an option under W.I.C. section 366.3, subdivision (h)(1).	The committee agrees that return home is an option at a Welfare and Institutions Code section 366.3 hearing and this option will be reflected in form JV-446.
			Should the forms related to the juvenile court's review of STRTP placements (forms JV-235, JV-236, JV-237, and JV-239) be mandatory or optional? Optional. 			Does the process to approve the placement without a hearing in rule 5.618(f) appropriately address its stated purpose? Would any modifications to the process improve the process? The original intent of being able to streamline the process by approval of placements without a hearing is undercut by the additional steps required. The report must be served earlier (10 not 7 days), a new form must be added (JV-240), and the court must be notified no objection has been filed, and the parties have to be notified of the decision to vacate the hearing. Not requiring an additional form and having the same timeline would simplify the process. However, this second process may not be needed if it does not in fact streamline it.	The committee appreciates that the process to approve the placement without a hearing can be burdensome. In creating this process, the committee was concerned with ensuring the parties have the chance for meaningful input and due process before the court vacates the hearing. To accomplish these ends, the committee created a separate timeline that would give parties sufficient time to review the report and prepare a response. The committee did not believe that seven calendar days was a sufficient amount of time for party responses, so a separate timeline was created. The committee also included new form JV-240 in this proposal to ensure that parties would be noticed that a request for review without a hearing was being made, which the current process does not include. This form is served at the same time as the report.
			Should the rule include a timeline for the filing and serving of the objection to the STRTP, or should this be left to local courts to determine, as the current rule requires? Let local courts determine what works best in their jurisdiction.	The committee agrees and has elected to not include a timeline for the filing of an objection. Courts have managed this process without a specific timeline in the rule since the rule's effective date of October 1, 2021. 			CCP section 1013(a) does not apply is extremely helpful and will prevent delay in these time-sensitive proceedings. However, there are three practice areas that are not addressed in this proposal that need clarification.
			Voluntary Placements: Rule 5.618 or Rule 5.514 (Intake; guidelines) should address voluntary placement procedures. 42 U.S.C. section 675a(c)(2) indicates that within 60 days of a Q RTP/STRTP placement there must be a review and approval by a juvenile court or an “administrative body appointed or approved by the court”. Some counties are unclear whether this requirement for administrative/court review applies to voluntary placements prior to juvenile dependency petitions being filed, resulting in counties filing more petitions in juvenile court to secure funding for STRTP placements. WIC section 16507.3(b) (citing a provision of WIC section 16507.6(a)(4), which no longer exists) indicates that the initial placement of an emotionally disturbed child into a residential treatment facility must be approved by an “interagency administrative review board”. Rule 5.618 or Rule 5.514 should require the establishment of a process, similar to Rule 5.514(b)(3) for the voluntary placement of Indian children, to assist counties in understanding how to work with courts to secure funding for voluntary placements. For example, the Rule	The Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) requires that “a family or juvenile court or another court (including a tribal court) of competent jurisdiction, or an administrative body appointed or approved by the court...” review each congregate care placement. (42 USC 675a(c)(2)). Assembly Bill 153 did not specify a process to review STRTP placements when the court did not have jurisdiction, nor did the bill address the court appointing an administrative body for these reviews. The committee believes that an administrative body could review these placements under the FFPSA but that this is a matter for the Legislature to address as opposed to a rule of court. The Welfare and Institutions Code has specific provisions for when administrative panels can be used, but administrative review of voluntary STRTP placements is not contemplated by the code. The committee does not believe that a rule of court could create a process where a juvenile court, without jurisdiction, reviews placements without the Welfare and Institutions Code addressing the process.

			could clarify that courts may choose to approve/appoint the Interagency Placement Committee in each county as such an administrative/multidisciplinary body for voluntary placements..
			Electronic Service: Rule of Court 5.618 should clarify that electronic service of the report described in section 361.22(c) may be served electronically, so long as the requirements of WIC section 212.5 are followed. Some counties are unclear whether, given the substance of the QI report, the agency report (which includes the QI report) constitutes medical or psychological documentation related to the child. If the QI report or agency report does not attach medical or psychological records, then it seems that WIC section 212.5(a)(4)(D)'s prohibition on electronic service of psychological or medical documentation would not be violated, if a county served the aforementioned reports electronically. However, given that some counties are unclear, Rule 5.618 should clarify that such electronic service of the report is permitted as described to ensure timely service of documents. Electronic service of documents is often critical to ensure the time periods set forth in WIC section 361.22 and Rule 5.618 are followed to allow for timely hearings and funding.	The committee concluded it would be redundant to repeat the applicability of Welfare and Institutions Code section 212.5(a)(4)(D) in the rule, and therefore unnecessary while also raising the risk of creating a possible discrepancy between the rule and the statute. In addition, mandatory form JV-237, the notice form, indicates that electronic service is a permissible mode of service and that electronic service must comply with section 212.5.

		should be modified in a way that clearly indicates to the court that it can determine that a child needs an STRTP level of care, but still disapprove of the particular STRTP in which the child is placed. Some counties have struggled to place children in home-based settings, following such disapprovals, and having a clearer understanding of the court's transition order would benefit participants. To that end, the JV-239's language that the child be transitioned to a "placement setting that is consistent with the determinations in items 6, 7 and 8 within 30 days" can be confusing (particularly in light of paragraph 8 regarding ICWA). For example, paragraph 9 ("disapproved") may be clearer (and better cover the possibilities arising out of a WIC section 361.31 placement preferences determination) if it indicates "The social worker or probation officer is ordered to transition the child or nonminor dependent to a placement setting with a level of care that is consistent with paragraph 6 or as otherwise specified in paragraph 11."	the language of Welfare and Institutions Code sections 361.22 and 727.12, and the committee believes that this is sufficient.

Yes, the provision of the address assists the court and parties in quickly understanding what county the child is placed in, and exactly what placement the county is requesting STRTP placement. 			No. Typically, return of a child to a parent at a WIC section 366.3 hearing should not be expected and, procedurally, would typically require the application of WIC section 366.3(f). Making this a standard/recommended order seems to suggest that it is somehow consistent/expected, when it typically is not. Therefore, paragraph 38 of the JV-446 is appropriate, at is restates WIC section 366.3(f); however, paragraph 11 does not discuss a legal standard for the participants (e.g., it should procedurally occur through a WIC section 388 motion) and would likely cause confusion in court and on appeal.	postpermanency hearing. However, the committee considered several provisions of Welfare and Institutions Code section 366.3 that suggest return home is an option at a postpermanency hearing, including that the court must consider all permanency planning options for the child, “including whether the child should be returned to the home of the parent ” (§ 366.3(h), italics added). In addition, section 366.3 requires the court to determine whether the out-of-home placement remains necessary, the extent of the progress the parents or legal guardians have made toward alleviating or mitigating the causes necessitating placement in foster care, and the likely date by which the child may be returned to, and safely maintained in the home (§ 366.3(e)(1), (7) & (8)).
			Should the forms related to the juvenile court’s review of STRTP placements (forms JV-235, 236, 237, and 239) be mandatory or optional? The JV-239 should definitely be mandatory to ensure uniformity for counties working to secure funding. The JV-235, 236, and 237 being optional will be helpful for counties with robust proofs of service practice and will alleviate unnecessary/perfunctory work in some cases (particularly with the JV-235 and 236 receipt). For example, if the agency has placed a child in an STRTP near the time of a scheduled hearing, and if all parties are present, parties can agree that they	The committee has elected to maintain the forms as mandatory to ensure that statutory requirements related to the hearing are uniformly applied, and to ensure that parties benefit from the information contained in JV-235, JV-236 and JV-240. In the example provided, the committee understands that mandatory forms might be burdensome, but the committee believes that the reasons for keeping the forms mandatory as stated outweigh the concerns raised.

			have received adequate notice in court, vs. counties using time and resources to file forms and prove service. Also, making the forms optional (vs. mandatory) will hopefully encourage courts to be even more flexible in working with counties to get information before the court in the narrow timeframes allotted by WIC section 361.22 and WIC section 4096.
			Does the process to approve the placement without a hearing in Rule 5.618(f) appropriately address its stated purpose. Would any modifications to the process improve the process?	The committee appreciates the concern raised regarding having two different timelines for serving the reports. In implementing the statutory directive that the Judicial Council create a process to review the placement without a hearing under Welfare and Institutions Code sections 361.22(h) and 727.12(h), the committee sought to ensure that parties would have a sufficient chance to review the report and make an objection, and this required the committee to create a different timeline than the seven calendar days required for the filing of the report in section 361.22 and 727.12. The committee did not believe that the seven-calendar day timeframe was enough time for parties to receive the report and prepare a response. This timeline took into consideration the timeline for the Qualified Individual (QI) report, which is required no later than 30 calendar days after the start of the placement. Ten court days before the hearing will in many cases be very close to the 30-day timeline for the report. If the report is prepared earlier than the federal timeline requires, the
			Given that QI reports can take up to 30 days to receive (following emergency placement), the 10 court days advance notice seems very challenging in most cases. So challenging, in fact, that in many cases, if the QI report is not received until calendar 30 after placement, it may be impossible to create an agency report and serve the parties approximately 14-16 calendar days prior to the hearing. That said, having a uniform 7 calendar days service requirement prior to hearing approach and then having the agency represent that it has confirmed that the parties agree 2 court days prior (or requiring objections to be filed 2 court days prior) to the hearing would be more realistic for counties to utilize the approval without a hearing process.

		Should form JV-446 address the return of the minor to the home of the parent or legal guardian? Yes, as this is an option for the court and a possible order.	The committee agrees and the form will include the option for return home orders.

The JV-239 should remain mandatory.	The committee has elected to keep JV-235, JV-236, JV-237 and JV-239 as mandatory to promote consistency in the process of court review of STRTP and CTF placements.
		Does the process to approve the placement without a hearing in rule 5.618(f) appropriately address its stated purpose? Would any modifications to the process improve the process? Yes, the process addresses its stated purpose. No modifications recommended at this time.	No response required.
		Should the rule include a timeline for the filing and serving of the objection to the STRTP, or should this be left to local courts to determine, as the current rule requires? Yes, a timeline should be included to be clear and consistent with the other STRTP timelines provided by the JCC.	The committee has elected to not include a timeline for the filing of an objection. Courts have managed this process without a specific timeline in the rule since the rules effective date of October 1, 2021. 		Should the forms related to the juvenile court's review of STRTP placements (forms JV-235, JV-236, JV-237, and JV-239) be mandatory or optional? It is always easier and more efficient for courts when forms are mandatory in processes that require multiple steps and timelines. 9.	Superior Court of San Bernardino County by Honorable Annemarie Pace Presiding Juvenile Judge	AM	The judge should be able to approve the placement without a hearing even if there is an objection filed. This is in line with other types of decisions juvenile judges make such as psychotropic medications and 827 requests. These can be done without a hearing even if there is an objection. Some objections are invalid at best and frivolous at worst.	The committee elected to maintain the current requirements in the rule that the hearing be held if a party objects to the placement. The committee felt that given that STRTP's are the most restrictive type of placement for a foster youth, a youth's day in court and opportunity to be heard is important enough to warrant the hearing always being held if there is an objection.

			Should the forms related to the court’s review of STRTP placements (forms JV-235, JV-236, JV-237, and JV-239) be mandatory or optional? Now that these forms have already been developed, they should remain mandatory because (1) they elicit all the information necessary to both accomplish their purposes and satisfy statutory requirements for their respective functions (e.g., JV-237, indicating parties who must be served) and (2) they will help ensure that procedures are executed uniformly across the state. An example of the unintended consequence of making the forms optional: The deletion of the references to the JV-235 and JV-236 in CRC 5.618(b) has left the rule stripped of the requirement that a copy of the JV-235 (or its equivalent) be served on the parties. The rule now merely requires that the SW or PO “notify” the parties. Also, the JV-235 already contains the important information about the parties’ right to provide input to the court and the possibility that the court may approve the placement without a hearing (item 4). If courts are going to use their own forms or paperwork to make the request, it is vital that this information be provided to the parties.	After careful consideration, the committee agrees that forms should be kept as mandatory. This promotes uniformity throughout the state and helps ensure procedural compliance with the applicable statutes and rules for a relatively new process. In addition, parties’ benefit from the information in the mandatory forms that are served on them. The committee agrees with the concern raised and forms will remain mandatory, so references to the forms in California Rules of Court, rule 5.618 will remain.

			Does the process to approve the placement without a hearing in rule 5.618(f) appropriately address its stated purpose? Would any modifications to the process improve the process? It seems confusing that 5.618(d)(2) requires service of the report “no later than seven calendar days before the hearing,” but 5.618(f) requires a proof of service verifying that the parties were served with the report “no later than 10 court days before the hearing date.” It would be helpful to have a consistent deadline. Also, rule 5.618(f)(1)(A) requires that the service requirements of 5.618(b) were met, but as revised by the proposal, 5.618(b) no longer requires service of the JV-235 on the parties (see my comment to the previous question). Also, if a party wishes to provide input or object using a method other than form JV-236, that party may not provide the court with all of the information needed by the court. The statutory timelines make it difficult to gather all the required information and still have enough time to take the hearing off calendar.	The committee appreciates the concern raised regarding having two different timelines for serving the reports. However, Welfare and Institutions Code sections 361.22(h) and 727.12(h) require the Judicial Council to create a process to review the placement without a hearing, and the committee sought to ensure that parties would have a sufficient chance to review the report and make an objection, and this required the committee to create a different timeline than the seven calendar days required for the filing of the report in section 361.22 and 727.12. In light of the committee’s decision to keep the forms mandatory, the remaining issues raised in the comment regarding the service of the JV-235 form and providing input using a different method other than the JV-236 form are now moot.
			Should the rule include a timeline for the filing and serving of the objection to the STRTP, or should this be left to local courts to determine, as the current rule requires?	The committee agrees that giving courts some flexibility in this process would benefit courts.

		Leaving it to local practice and rules provides the most flexibility and is preferable. Would the proposal provide cost savings? 		order codes to comply with changes.
		Would 3 months from approval of this proposal until its effective date provide sufficient time for implementation? Yes, if the forms are made available by that time.	No response required.
		How well would this proposal work in courts of different sizes? It depends on each court's capacity for implementing new forms. It should work in San Diego County.	No response required.
		Other comments: Change delinquency to juvenile justice throughout.	The committee considered making this change prior to circulating the proposal for comment. But because the Welfare and Institutions Code still uses "delinquency" the committee elected to wait for the legislature to address this change first.

		Rule 5.618(e)(4): Suggested edit because JV-236 will no longer be a mandatory form – Local county practice and local rules of court determine the procedures for completing, filing, and serving form JV-236 or another method of providing input, except as otherwise provided in this rule.	Because the forms will remain mandatory, this change was not made.

		JV-672, items 7b, 9, 11b, 12, 21a: Suggest changing “probation” to “the probation officer.”	The committee notes that Welfare and Institutions Code section 727.2 refers to “probation officer” and “probation department.” Depending on which term is used for the applicable finding, the committee uses that term on the forms.
		JV-672, item 11: Insert comma after “California” (“... state of California, and that out-of-state placement ...”).	The suggested change has been made.

(See, e.g., JV-455, item 21.)	Since Welfare and Institutions Code section 727.2(e)(6)(A) requires that “the court shall, in addition, determine the services needed to assist the minor to make the transition from foster care to successful adulthood.” And “(B) The court shall make these determinations on a case-by-case basis and reference in its written findings the probation officer’s report and any other evidence relied upon in reaching its decision,” the committee agrees that the additional checkboxes referenced should be included on the form.
		JV-672, item 18a, b, c, and 26: Should there be check boxes for Indian custodian? (Arguably, an Indian custodian can be indicated by “other.”)	Since only a very small number of cases involve an Indian custodian, the “other” box can be used to list such person when it applies in item 18. “Other” has also been added to item 26.

		Should forms related to the juvenile court's review of STRTP placement forms (JV-235, JV-236, JV-237, and JV-239) be mandatory or optional? Mandatory forms are preferred, as these forms all contain the required information for the court to process the forms. These forms work well in our court, and the consistency is crucial to timely processing.	After careful consideration, the committee agrees that forms should be kept as mandatory. This promotes uniformity throughout the state and helps ensure procedural compliance with the applicable statutes and rules for a relatively new process. In addition, parties benefit from the information in the mandatory forms that are served on them.
		Does the process to approve the placement without a hearing in rule 5.618(f) appropriately address its stated purpose? Would any modifications to the process improve the process? The only modifications we would suggest would be to require the forms to be mandatory, and not optional.	The committee agrees that the forms should remain mandatory and California Rules of Court, rule 5.618 has been updated to reflect that the forms are mandatory.
		Should the rule include a timeline for the filing and serving of the objection to the STRTP or should this be left to local courts to determine, as the current rule requires? A timeline would be very helpful. The process can be confusing to court users, and a timeline might help clarify questions users may have regarding filing deadlines. This is the area where we receive the majority of questions.	The committee has elected to not include a timeline for the filing of an objection. Local courts have managed this process without a specific timeline in the rule since the rules effective date of October 1, 2021. The committee believes that giving courts some discretion on this aspect of the process benefits courts and parties. The committee however appreciates the concerns raised in this comment and will consider it in future proposals involving California Rules of Court, rule 5.618.

			What would the implementation requirements be for courts - for example, training staff (please identify position and expected hours of training), revising processes and procedures (please describe), changing docket codes in case management systems, or modifying case management systems?	The committee understands that courts may have additional implementation requirements due to this proposal and hopes that these additional implementation requirements are not too burdensome. The proposal had to circulate a second time to provide an opportunity for courts and justice partners to provide input on procedures developed based on the enacted legislation and meet the requirement that all rules and forms changes circulate for public comment.
			Changes will be needed to the court's CMS and e-filing systems. Work orders with Tyler will be needed, and may take a few weeks to add.

		The federal and state law envisioned the planning and court approval process would occur prior to a placement to promote placement stability and to ensure the proper process occurs prior to a placement in one of the most restrictive settings. The committee also does not agree that FFPSA and AB 153 envisioned the review occurring prior to the start of the placement. The timelines for the courts review in both the federal and state statutes are based on when the placement begins. If the intent of these statutes were that the placement be reviewed prior to the start of the placement, the legislature would have written this into the statute. Further, the suggested timeline would not be possible if the initial placement at the start of a case was a STRTP.

We believe this requirement, in addition to the youth's due process rights, include a hearing after which the court makes an independent determination. Furthermore, nothing in section 675a subdivision (c) of title 42 of the United States Code specifies how the court must review the placement including without a hearing, the federal law only requires that the placement be reviewed by the court. The parties must have the report served on them ten court days before the hearing, are given five court days to object, and the placement can be reviewed without a hearing only if no party has objected to the placement. The committee believes that these procedures ensure that a party's due process rights are maintained, because if any party objects, the court must hold the hearing. Since this language is stated in Welfare and Institutions Code sections 361.22(e) and 727.12(e), the committee does not believe that reiterating it in the rule is necessary and that doing so would be an unnecessary redundancy and raises the risk of creating a possible discrepancy between the rule and the statute. The Judicial Council generally seeks to eliminate redundancies of statutory language in its rules of court. The committee however acknowledges the importance this language.

			implementation of these provisions that it warrants inclusion in the rule. Recommendations for a New Form: As stated above, we recommend that the rule is revised to require a hearing to approve an STRTP placement prior to the placement except in emergencies. In the alternative, we recommended language to allow the filing a request for a hearing prior to placement. If this alternative is accepted, we recommend that a form be developed so that any party can request a hearing related to the proposal for an STRTP placement.	See response above.
			Should form JV-235 include the placement address? Due to the array of placements that could be part of one provider, we agree that providing the specific placement address is critical to proceedings where the appropriate placement is the main issue.	The committee agrees and JV-235 has been updated to require the placement address.
			Should form JV-446 address the return of the minor to the home of the parent or legal guardian? We agree that the form should address this situation.	The committee agrees that return home is an applicable finding at a postpermanency hearing and the form has been updated accordingly.

			Should the forms related to the juvenile court’s review of STRTP placements (forms JV-235, JV-236, JV-237, and JV-239) be mandatory or optional? We recommend that these forms be mandatory to promote uniformity across the state.	The committee agrees that mandatory forms help promote consistency with statutory and rule requirements and the forms have been maintained as mandatory.
			Does the process to approve the placement without a hearing in rule 5.618(f) appropriately address its stated purpose? Would any modifications to the process improve the process? Section (f) Approval without a hearing As mentioned above, we recommend that this section be deleted. Federal law requires that the court approve or disapprove of an STRTP placement. 42 U.S.C.A. 675a(c)(2)(C). We believe this requirement, in addition to the youth’s due process rights, include a hearing after which the court makes an independent determination. We believe this is also supported by the obligation of the court to consult with the child on the permanency and case plan. 42 U.S.C.A. 675 (5)(C).	See response above.
			Should the rule include a timeline for the filing and serving of the objection to the STRTP, or should this be left to local courts to determine, as the current rule requires?	The committee did not include a timeline in the rule because it believes that giving courts flexibility in the filing of the objection form can be beneficial for courts and parties.

			We recommend there should be a timeline to promote uniformity across the state.
			Rules 5.697 and 5.903 While the idea of deleting the language and simply referencing the statute to avoid the need for future revisions makes some sense, the way this is constructed could actually lead to greater confusion and nonetheless require revision. The amendments delete provisions and insert references to the relevant laws. In doing so, they include the subsections and subdivisions to provide specificity. These numbers often change when statutes are amended. This could mean that the rule references the wrong provisions. Even if the substance of the original reference does not change, the rule will need revision as it will reference requirements and provisions not intended. To avoid this, we recommend either 1) only referencing the statute and not the particular subsection or subdivision, or 2) leaving the language of the particular provision in the rule so that there is, at least, clarity as to what the rule initially intended.	The committee appreciates that there may be a need to amend the rule again to reflect changes in the statute and agrees that referencing the statute without subdivisions is appropriate. Rule 5.903 has been updated to reference Welfare and Institutions Code section 366.31 without a reference to subdivisions.

The language has been updated to “the child has left their placement and their whereabouts are unknown.” The committee appreciates this suggestion, but because it would be a substantive change that would need to be circulated for comment, and because making such a factual finding is not a requirement of statute, the committee is not including it in the form.
