Executive Summary

The Civil and Small Claims Advisory Committee recommends that the Judicial Council amend and revise the California Rules of Court and forms applicable to current voluntary expedited jury trials to reflect statutory amendments to the time frame for those cases, and adopt new rules and forms for the new mandatory expedited jury trials in limited civil cases. These changes are to implement Assembly Bill 555 (Alejo; Stats. 2015, ch. 330), which lifts the sunset provisions in the Expedited Jury Trial Act, which went into effect on January 1, 2011, to establish an expedited jury trial process—a consensual process designed to promote the speedy and economic resolution of cases and to conserve judicial resources. The bill also amends the time frame applicable to such trials from three hours per side to five hours per side, and significantly expands the statute to require expedited jury trials in most limited civil actions other than unlawful detainees. The statute mandates that the new and amended rules and forms be operative by July 1, 2016.

Recommendation

The Civil and Small Claims Advisory Committee recommends that the Judicial Council take the following actions, effective July 1, 2016, to implement the new and amended statutory provisions regarding expedited jury trials:

1. Adopt new rule 3.1546, amend rules 3.1545, and 3.1547–3.1552, and renumber rule 3.1553;
2. Adopt new Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-003) and Objection to Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial (form EJT-004);
3. Approve new Order on Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-005), and Agreement of Parties (Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures) (form EJT-018); and
4. Revise and renumber Expedited Jury Trial Information Sheet (form EJT-001-INFO) and Attachment (form EJT-022A); and
5. Revise [Proposed] Consent Order for Voluntary Expedited Jury Trial (form EJT-020).

The text of the new and amended rules are attached, beginning at page 13. The new and revised forms are attached beginning at page 21.

Previous Council Action

In 2010, the Legislature passed the Expedited Jury Trials Act, and the council adopted a series of rules and forms to implement that act. Unfortunately, while all stakeholders, including the courts and plaintiff and defense bar organizations, were enthusiastic about the idea of expedited jury trials—consensual trials that were shorter and used smaller juries than traditional civil trials—the procedures have not been used much. In the period from January 2011 through August 2014, fewer than 200 EJTs were reported as having occurred across that state. Twenty-five courts reported that EJTs had not been used in any cases during that period.

Last year, at the request of representatives from California Defense Counsel and Consumer Attorneys of California, the Chief Justice asked the Judicial Council’s Governmental Affairs office to gather together a group of interested parties to examine the issue and consider possible solutions. Discussion among that group eventually led to legislation, Assembly Bill 555,<sup>1</sup> which the council supported. This proposal is to implement that legislation.

Rationale for Recommendation

The original expedited jury trial (EJT) process was developed to address litigants' lack of access to the courts in smaller civil cases and the high expense of going to trial under existing civil laws and procedures. It is a consensual process, intended to be quicker and less expensive than a traditional jury trial, saving time and money for all involved: litigants, lawyers, courts, and jurors. The original EJT differs from a regular jury trial in the following key ways:

- Shorter trial length. Each side had three hours to put on all its witnesses, show the jury its evidence, and argue its case.
- Smaller jury. The jury consists of 8 jurors instead of 12, with no alternates.
- Faster jury selection process. The parties exercise fewer peremptory challenges (three per side); and voir dire is limited to 15 minutes per side (plus 15 minutes for the judge).
- Swifter finality. All parties had to waive their rights to appeal. In order to help keep down the costs of litigation, there are no appeals following an expedited jury trial except in very limited circumstances.

In order to assure that the parties would be ready to proceed swiftly on the day of trial, the rules provide for pretrial exchanges of exhibits and witnesses and early filing of motions in limine. The EJT process was set up to be very flexible, allowing the parties to enter into agreements governing the rules of procedure for the trial and pretrial exchanges, including the manner and method of presenting evidence and high/low agreements on damages. The scheduling of expedited jury trials and the assignment of judicial officers is left to each superior court. As enacted in 2010, the law included a sunset date of December 31, 2015.

AB 555 deleted the sunset date, thereby extending the EJT process indefinitely. In addition, AB 555 addresses two concerns that were seen as hampering wider use of the EJT process: the extremely short time frame allotted for trial (three hours per side) and the lack of appeal rights. The Legislature ultimately concluded that the current consensual or voluntary EJT procedures should continue, with a longer, five-hour time period for each side at trial (folding jury voir dire into that time). See Code of Civil Procedure section 630.03(e)(2).<sup>2</sup> The Legislature also concluded that EJTs should be required in most smaller civil cases, although with appeal rights,<sup>3</sup> and so included provisions for mandatory EJTs in most limited civil cases<sup>4</sup> (§ 630.20). Parties may opt out of the mandatory EJTs if a limited civil case meets certain criteria. Id. AB 555 directs the Judicial Council to develop procedures for opting out, along with other rules and forms appropriate for mandatory EJTs (§ 630.28).

<sup>2</sup> All statutory references herein are to the Code of Civil Procedure, unless otherwise noted. All rules references are the California Rules of Court.

<sup>3</sup> The mandatory EJTs also differ from the voluntary EJTs in that up to four (rather than three) peremptory challenges per side are permitted in mandatory EJTs (§ 630.23(c)).

New and amended rules

The proposal amends the current rules of court on EJT's, beginning at rule 3.1545, to provide for both mandatory EJT's and voluntary EJT's.

Mandatory EJT rule. New rule 3.1546 applies only to mandatory EJT's. It provides that the parties in those cases should follow the pretrial procedures (including the limitations on discovery) and case management procedures that apply to limited civil cases generally. Rule 3.1546(a), (b).

Rule 3.1546(c) sets out the procedures for opting out of a mandatory EJT:

- A newly developed mandatory form must be used to make the request and identify the applicable criteria supporting an opt-out. (See proposed form EJT-003.)
- Generally, the request must be served and filed by at least 45 days before the date first set for trial.<sup>5</sup>
- For cases in which the date first set for trial has already occurred at the time the rule (and the new law) goes into effect on July 1, 2016, the request must be filed at least 45 days before the first date set for trial after July 1.
- Any objection to the request must be served and filed within 15 days after service of the request using a mandatory form. (See proposed form EJT-004.)
- The deadlines each have good cause exceptions so that courts may allow a shorter time frame for making a request or objecting to one when appropriate.<sup>6</sup>
- Should the criteria on which an opt-out is based no longer apply, the parties are to promptly inform the court and the court may return the case to the mandatory EJT procedures.

The rules do not anticipate that a hearing must be held on these requests to opt out, because in most instances the party will have the right to opt out under section 630.20(b) and the request will be routinely granted by the court on the paper filed. Should the court decide a hearing is necessary, the optional order form allows the courts to set one. See proposed form EJT-005.

Rule 3.1546(d) notes that the parties may agree to modify the pretrial and trial procedures (see § 630.23(d) expressly allowing this), and identifies proposed new form EJT-018 and its attachment form as a means to formalize any such agreement.

<sup>5</sup> That date parallels the earliest date on which a party in a limited civil case may ask the other side for a pretrial statement identifying planned trial witnesses and exhibits. See § 96.

<sup>6</sup> An Advisory Committee Comment to the new rule notes that the good cause exception is expected to be invoked liberally to allow parties and the courts to handle cases with trial dates within the first couple months following the adoption of the rule, when it will be impossible or very difficult to meet the deadlines for requesting an opt-out or objecting to such a request.

Voluntary EJT rules. The committee also recommends minor amendments to current rules 3.1547 and 3.1548, as described below:

- First, the titles of both rules and pertinent subparts are changed to clarify that they apply only to voluntary EJTs.
- Second, rule 3.1547(b)(1) has been amended to clarify that the requirements of, as well as timelines for, the pretrial submissions may be modified by agreement of the parties. (A similar change has been made to the attachment to the consent order (form EJT-022A.)
- Third, rule 3.1547(b)(4) was amended to change the three-hour time frame for each side's case to a five-hour time frame.
- Finally, an additional item was added to the list of subjects to be considered at the pretrial conference—the issue of how the award of attorney's fees and costs is to be handled in cases with high/low agreements.

Rules applicable to all EJTs. The time limits regarding voir dire (in rule 3.1550) were eliminated and the time frame in rule 3.1551 was amended to reflect the change in the statute. Former rule 3.1546 was moved to this new article and renumbered as rule 3.1553. The remaining trial rules otherwise remain the same, amended only to clarify that they are applicable to both types of EJTs.

New and amended forms

New forms were developed for the opt-out procedure and potential agreements of parties in mandatory EJTs. The current EJT forms are being amended to reflect the increased trial time and to make some of them usable in mandatory EJT cases as well as in voluntary EJT cases.

Expedited Jury Trial Information Sheet (form EJT-001-INFO). The information sheet is renumbered (it had been EJT-010-INFO), so that it will remain the first form in this form series, and has been revised in order to cover both types of expedited jury trials.

Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-003). This new form is the mandatory form to be used for a request to opt out. There are check boxes for each of the criteria for opting out in § 630.20(b), with separate items for those criteria that permit a party to opt out upon request (630.20(b) 1–8), and for the one criteria that requires a judge to make a finding. See § 630.20(b)(9): a court may allow opt-out for good cause. There is also an item to address any good cause for late filing. The form must be completed under penalty of perjury. The back of the form has instructions for requesting an opt-out and for objecting to such a request, and a reminder that, even after an opt-out has been made, the case may be tried as a mandatory EJT if the grounds for an opt-out are no longer applicable.

Objection to Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-004). This new form is a mandatory form that provides spaces to identify the applicant and date of request; state the ground for the objection, either why the asserted criteria for opting out is not applicable or why the request was not timely; and, if necessary, the good cause for filing a late objection. This form, too, must be completed under penalty of perjury

Order on Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-005).

This new optional order form may be used by a court in acting on the request, to grant, deny, or set a hearing.

Agreement of Parties (Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures) (form EJT-018). This is a new form on which parties can memorialize any agreements they reach to modify procedures or streamline the trial, including limiting number of witnesses, etc. This form may be used on its own or as a cover sheet for an attachment form that lists the several areas that had been previously determined to be ripe for modification in EJTs. (See form EJT-022A, previously form EJT-020A.)

[Proposed] Consent Order for Voluntary Expedited Jury Trial (form EJT-020). This form has been amended to clarify that it is for use in voluntary EJTs only, and the references to trial time limits and to various forms have been revised to reflect the amended statutory provisions.

Attachment to [Proposed] Consent Order or Agreement of Parties (form EJT-022A). This form, previously numbered EJT-020A as the attachment to the proposed consent order, has been revised and renumbered so that it can also be used by parties in mandatory EJTs as well.

Comments, Alternatives Considered, and Policy Implications

Comments

The proposal was circulated for public comment from December 11, 2015 through January 22, 2016. Comments were received from several attorney groups<sup>7</sup> along with three superior courts<sup>8</sup> and the Joint Rules Subcommittee of the Trial Court Presiding Judges Advisory Committee and Court Executives Advisory Committee (Joint Rules Subcommittee). All agreed with the proposal generally, although some modifications were requested. A chart of all the comments received and the committees' responses to each is attached to this report at pages 32-52. The major points addressed in the comments are summarized below.

Rules regarding the timing of opt-out procedures

As originally proposed and circulated, the procedure for requesting to opt out of the mandatory EJT procedures provided the following:

- For cases filed after July 1, 2016, unless good cause is shown, the request was to be served and filed at least 45 days before the date first set for trial.

<sup>7</sup> These commenters were the California Defense Counsel, Consumer Attorneys of California, Orange County Bar Association, and two State Bar groups, the Litigation Section and the Committee on the Administration of Justice.

<sup>8</sup> The courts commenting were the Superior Courts of Los Angeles, Riverside, and San Diego Counties.

- For cases already on file on July 1, the time the rule and the new law become operative, parties were to file any opt-out request at least 10 days before trial.
- Any objection to the request must be served and filed within 15 days after service of the request using a mandatory form.

The invitation to comment asked for specific comments on this proposed timing: was the deadline for opting out appropriate, or should it be at an earlier point in the case? The majority of commenters, agreed with the 45-days-before-trial deadline generally. The Superior Court of Los Angeles County and the Joint Rules Subcommittee both noted that an earlier opt-out deadline might force parties to opt out of mandatory EJT's when they are undecided as to whether to remain within that process, while the same parties might remain in the process if they can wait until most discovery has concluded before making the decision.

Orange County Bar Association did not disagree with having the deadline close to the end of the action, but would have preferred a slightly longer lead time before trial, suggesting that a party should have notice at least 20 to 30 days before trial of whether a traditional jury will be used and longer trial is anticipated; they proposed that a 60-day-before-trial deadline be used. The committee disagrees that the additional two weeks' notice would make much difference, and continues to recommend the 45-day deadline. The committee particularly likes that the deadline is the day on which the parties may first ask for a pretrial exchange of witness and exhibit lists (§ 96), so is set at a time when the parties should be making decisions about the future trial.

That same commenter suggested that another way to assure sufficient notice to the parties was to mandate how quickly the court must act on the request to opt out. The committee disagrees with this suggestion for two reasons. First, most of the criteria for opting out are objective factors, the existence of which by statute permit a party to opt out of the mandatory EJT procedures. (See § 630.20(b)(1)–(8).) Therefore as soon as a party is served with such a request, the party will generally know whether the opt-out will be granted. Second, setting a specific number of days in which the court must act is micromanaging judicial officers, when there has been no indication that such management is required. There is no reason to believe that courts will delay action on any of these requests, even those requiring a judicial finding (the opt-out requests based on a claim of good cause). Further, mandating that the court must act within a certain period or that a request to opt out would be granted by default would not be in keeping with the goal of the Legislature to have more cases tried by EJT. On the other hand, having the result of a court's failure to act within the given time be that the opt out is automatically denied would not conform with the statutory provision that permits parties to opt out so long as certain criteria are met. Since there is no basis at this point for assuming courts will be dilatory in acting on opt-out requests, the committee declines to recommend a rule mandating a specific time in which the court must act.

The State Bar's Committee on Administration of Justice (CAJ) was the one commenter that suggested that opt-outs should take place a longer time before trial, noting that otherwise there is a risk of game-playing. The commenter noted that if a party does not opt out until the 45 days before trial, there may be an assumption that the case will be tried as an EJT and prepared accordingly, and then surprised at the end of the case when the other side opts out of the EJT process and the case becomes a traditional jury trial. While it is true that with an earlier deadline, the parties would know from earlier in the case whether they were likely to be engaging in an EJT, the committee considered, but rejected, this alternative when it was originally developing the rule, and continues to do so now. The committee noted that the existence of some of the criteria could change over the course of a case, leading it to conclude that a later deadline for opting out would be more useful for both courts and parties. Moreover, pretrial procedures in these limited civil actions, including limitations on discovery, will remain the same whether or not the eventual trial is an EJT. The primary impacts of opting out of the mandatory EJT procedures will be that the regular jury trial will use more jurors at trial and may take somewhat longer to try than the two to three days an EJT will take. In light of these considerations, the committee concludes there was not good reason to limit a party's ability to opt out too early in the case.

Two commenters noted that the rules as originally proposed, with a deadline of only 10 days before trial for requesting an opt-out in cases filed before July 1, 2016, but no shortening of the deadline for objecting to the requests in those cases, could result in the deadline for objections occurring after the trial date. One suggestion was to fix this by increasing the amount of time before trial for making the request in such cases. The committee agrees with that suggestion.

The reason for having different deadlines for cases filed before and after July 1, 2016, was the committee's recognition that, for many cases pending on July 1 (the operative date of the new law mandating EJTs), the proposed deadline of "45 days before the date first set for trial" will already have passed. Those cases may already have been continued past the first or even second trial date. And some will have trial dates occurring within a short time after July 1. The rule as originally circulated, was an attempt to cover as many of those cases as possible. In reviewing the issue, the committee concludes that a better way to deal with this issue is to apply the same 45-day deadline to all cases, counting back from the date first set for trial where possible, and counting back from the next trial date if the first date has already occurred. See proposed rule 3.1546(c)(2). For those cases that have trials set within the first 45 days after the law and rules go into effect, there will clearly be good cause for the court to allow late filing. The committee has noted this issue, and the use of the good cause exemption to address it, in an Advisory Committee Note.

Returning a case to mandatory EJT procedures

In developing the opt-out procedures, the committee considered whether it should develop a rule to clarify that, after a party has opted out of the mandatory EJT procedures based on a case meeting one or more of the conditions in section 630.20(b), a court may return the case to mandatory EJT status should the relevant conditions no longer apply. The committee asked for comments on whether such a rule should be adopted, to clarify that a case may be returned to mandatory EJT status when appropriate, even after an opt-out has been approved by the court.

All commenters<sup>9</sup> who responded on this issue agreed that, while the court clearly has the authority to take such action, a rule clarifying this point would be a good way to remind parties of that. One commenter, California Defense Counsel, also suggested that there should be some mechanism where the party who opts out affirms that the basis for the opt-out still exists before proceeding to trial.

In light of the comments received, the committee modified the rules to include a provision that the court may have a case tried as an mandatory EJT if the criteria supporting an opt-out no longer apply, and mandating that the parties inform a court promptly if that occurs. See proposed rule 3.1546(c)(4). At the suggestion of the Orange County Bar Association, the committee also added a new instruction to the opt-out request form, notifying the parties of these provisions. See form EJT-003, Instructions, item 7.

The committee considered placing some kind of deadline or notice requirement on returning a case to mandatory EJT status, in light of suggestions received from several of the bar group commenters, but concluded that such cases will need to be handled by courts on an individual basis, depending on the facts and timing involved, and so has not set any mandatory time frames for the court.

Comments on new EJT forms

In addition to the new instruction added to the request for opt-out forms, several other suggestions for modification of the forms were made by the commenters, all of which were accepted by the committee. The more substantive ones are described here.

- Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial (form EJT-003)

At the suggestion of Consumer Attorneys of California, item 2 on the form, the item stating grounds for opting out, was divided into two subparts, with the only ground requiring a determination by the court (good cause) set out as separate from the grounds that automatically result in an opt-out upon request. At the same time, the committee added to item 2(b) the statutory language about good cause including situations where a party believes a case needs more time and the other party won't stipulate to that.

At the suggestion of California Defense Counsel, a further instruction was added to the back of the form, to clarify that no documentary evidence need be submitted with the opt-out request.

- Objection to Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial (form EJT-004)

At the suggestion of the Litigation Section of the State Bar, the items on the form were reorganized. Because original items 3 and 4 were really just two bases for objecting to the opt-out request, they have been made subparts of a single item. The committee has also added a new item 4 to the form to allow an objector to show good cause for late filing.

<sup>9</sup> California Defense Counsel, State Bar Litigation Section, State Bar Committee on Administration of Justice, Superior Court of San Diego, and Orange County Bar Association (OCBA) provided comments on this point.

- Agreement of Parties (Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures) (form EJT-018)
The Superior Court of Orange County pointed out that the item for the judge to check if denying the stipulation of the parties referred to a proposed consent order being denied, but that this new form was titled an agreement of the parties, rather than an order. The different title was used to differentiate it from the current Proposed Consent Order form for voluntary EJTs. The language in the final item on the form has now been modified.

Voluntary expedited jury trials

The proposal as circulated also made minor amendments to the rules regarding voluntary expedited jury trials, and minor revisions to the forms for those cases. No comments were received on those parts of the proposal, and the committee is proceeding with the recommendation as circulated.

In developing the new rules for the mandatory EJTs, the committee also considered whether it should also recommend amendments to simplify the voluntary EJT procedures, which some had complained of as overly complicated and burdensome. The invitation to comment included a request for specific comments on this point; whether those rules should be made simpler. The consensus of those who responded to this request, California Defense Counsel, Orange County Bar Association, and the two state bar committee commenters, was to leave the rules regarding voluntary EJTs as they were.

Potential policy implications of the new statute

Although not raised in the formal comments, a judicial officer has informally raised a question with the committee about the impact of new section 630.020(a)<sup>10</sup> and whether, on its face, it mandates that all trials in limited civil cases be conducted as mandatory EJTs, with bench trials no longer permitted other than in cases in which the parties have opted out or which are not covered by this new law (i.e., unlawful detainer cases).

The committee notes that this interpretation of the statute does not appear to conform with the intent of the authors. The legislative history of the bill does not indicate that there was any intent to eliminate these bench trials in limited civil cases. Discussions of EJTs in the various committee analyses address the benefits of such procedures as compared to regular jury trials, but nowhere compare them to bench trials, or mention bench trials at all.<sup>11</sup> Considering that in fiscal year 2013–2014 there were over 31,000 bench trials in limited civil cases in California, and only 219 jury trials in such cases, bench trials would have been the subject of discussion in legislative analyses if the bill was intended to eliminate such trials.

<sup>10</sup> 630.20 (a). Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), an action or special proceeding treated as a limited civil case pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 85) of Chapter 5.1 of Title 1 of Part 1, including an action or special proceeding initially filed as a limited civil case or remanded as one thereafter, shall be conducted as a mandatory expedited jury trial pursuant to this chapter . . .(emphasis added)

<sup>11</sup> The bill analyses by the various Senate and Assembly committees may be viewed here: http://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/billAnalysisClient.xhtml?bill\_id=201520160AB555.

Moreover, the law regarding waiving jury trials has not been modified by the new law. Article I Section 6 of the California Constitution provides that “[i]n a civil case, a jury may be waived only by consent of the parties expressed as prescribed by statute.” Section 631(a) states that a party may waive a jury trials only by the means described in section 631(f). That section prescribes several ways in which such waiver is made, including, among other methods, by failing to announce that a jury is required at the time the case is first set for trial; or by failing to pay a jury fee at the time of the initial case management conference; or, if no case management conference is scheduled, within 165 days after the complaint was filed. Nothing was included in AB 555 to modify this code section so that it would not apply in limited civil proceedings where mandatory EJT are to become the norm. The lack of any modification to section 631 appears to be yet another indicator that the Legislature did not intend to eliminate bench trials in limited civil cases.

Alternatives considered

Because the Legislature mandated that new rules and procedures be developed to reflect the changes to the voluntary EJT provisions and the enactment of the new mandatory EJT provisions, the committee did not consider whether to develop new rules and forms, but merely how to do so.

Pretrial Procedures for Mandatory EJTs

The committee considered making the current rules regarding mandatory pretrial conferences and pretrial submissions for voluntary EJTs (see rule 3.1548) applicable to mandatory EJTs as well. The committee decided, however, that those rules—particularly the mandated pretrial conference shortly before trial—would be overly burdensome if required in all limited civil cases, and declined to do so. The committee decided instead that mandatory EJT cases should comply with the existing statutory pretrial provisions for limited civil cases, which provide for limited discovery in such cases and the potential of a pretrial exchange of witness and exhibit lists. See sections 90–100.

The committee also considered the alternative of requiring that parties make any request to opt out of a mandatory EJT early in the action, tying the deadline to the time for case management review, for example, or to a set number of days after filing. As discussed above, the committee concluded that a deadline later in the case was preferable.

Pretrial Procedures for Voluntary EJTs

As noted above, the committee considered amending the current pretrial rule for voluntary EJTs (rule 3.1548) in light of concerns raised that the early deadlines for pretrial exchanges and the mandatory pretrial conferences were burdensome, particularly in smaller cases, and discouraged parties from agreeing to EJTs. Some members noted that the current rules were often not complied with because many voluntary EJTs were agreed to just before trial, after the time in the rule for exchanges and submissions had already passed. The committee decided to defer proposing any amendments to that provision at this time, focusing instead on the new mandatory

EJTs. In light of the comments received on this issue, the committee is not considering further recommendations in that area at this time. The consensus of all those who responded to this request for comment was that the current rules on pretrial procedures for voluntary EJTs need not be changed, due in part to their currently flexibility, allowing parties to change the provisions on stipulation.

Implementation Requirements, Costs, and Operational Impacts

The statutory changes in AB 555 will require significant education of judicial officers and courtroom personnel in any event, regarding the mandatory EJTs that will be held in many limited civil cases starting in July 2016, as well as the criteria for parties to be able to opt out of that type of trial. The new rules and forms relating to requests to opt out are intended to simplify the process, but they will also result in further training needs for court personnel and judicial officers. Those courts that decide to add the optional order form to their computerized case management system will have the added cost of doing that, but it is recommended as an optional form so that courts can make the decision.

Rule 3.1545. Expedited jury trials

(a) Application

The rules in this chapter apply to civil actions in which the parties either:

(1) Agree to an a voluntary expedited jury trial under chapter 4.5 (commencing with section 630.01) of title 8 of part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or

(2) Are required to take part in an expedited jury trial under chapter 4.6 (commencing with section 630.20) of title 8 of part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) Definitions

As used in this chapter, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

(1) “Consent order” means the consent order granting an expedited jury trial described in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.03.

(2) “Expedited jury trial” is a short jury trial before a reduced jury panel, and may be either a “mandatory expedited jury trial” or a “voluntary expedited jury trial.”

(3) “Mandatory expedited jury trial” has the same meaning as stated in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.21.

(4) “Voluntary expedited jury trial” has the same meaning as stated for “expedited jury trial” in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.01.

(5) ~~“Expedited jury trial”~~ “High/low agreement” and “posttrial motions” have the same meanings as stated in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.01.

4 Rule 3.1546. Pretrial procedures for mandatory expedited jury trials

6 (a) Pretrial procedures

8 The pretrial procedures for limited civil actions set out in Code of Civil Procedure sections
9 90–100 are applicable to all cases with mandatory expedited jury trials. The statutory 10 procedures include limited discovery, optional case questionnaires, optional requests for 11 pretrial statements identifying trial witnesses and exhibits, and the possibility of presenting 12 testimony in the form of affidavits or declarations.
13

14 (b) Case management
15

16 The case management rules in chapter 3 of division 7 of these rules, starting at rule 3.720, 17 are applicable to all cases with mandatory expedited jury trials, except to the extent the 18 rules have been modified by local court rules applicable to limited civil cases.
19

20 (c) Opting out of mandatory expedited jury trial procedures
21

- 22 (1) Parties seeking to opt out of mandatory expedited jury trial procedures on grounds 23 stated in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.20(b) must file a Request to Opt Out of 24 Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-003).
25
26 (2) Except on a showing of good cause, the request to opt out must be served and filed at 27 least 45 days before the date first set for trial or, in cases in which the date first set for 28 trial occurred before July 1, 2016, 45 days before the first trial date after July 1, 2016.
29
30 (3) Except on a showing of good cause, any objection to the request must be served and 31 filed within 15 days after the date of service of the request, on an Opposition to 32 Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-004).
33
34 (4) If the grounds on which a party or parties have opted out of mandatory expedited jury
35 trial procedures no longer apply to a case, the parties must promptly inform the court,
36 and the case may be tried as a mandatory expedited jury trial.
37

38 (d) Agreements regarding pretrial and trial procedures
39

40 Parties are encouraged to agree to procedures or limitations on pretrial procedures and on 41 presentation of information at trial that could streamline the case, including but not limited
42 to those items described in rule 3.1547(b). The parties may use Agreement of Parties
43 (Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures) (form EJT-018) and the attachment (form 44 EJT-022A) to describe such agreements.
45

1 Advisory Committee Comment

3 Because Code of Civil Procedure section 630.20, which becomes operative July 1, 2016, applies to cases
4 already on file and possibly already set for trial, as well as cases filed after the statutory provisions go into
5 effect, the deadlines in rule 3.1546(c) for opt outs and objections may be problematic as applied to cases
6 set for trial within the first couple of months after the rule goes into effect. It is expected that the good
7 cause provisions within the rules regarding deadlines, along with judicious use of continuances as 8 appropriate, will be liberally used to permit courts to manage those cases fairly, appropriately, and 9 efficiently.

11
12 Article 3. Rules Applicable Only to Cases with Voluntary Expedited Jury Trials

13
14 Rule 3.1547. Consent order for voluntary expedited jury trial

21
22 (2) The parties may enter into written stipulations regarding any high/low agreements or 23 other matters. Only in the following circumstances may a high/low agreement be 24 submitted to the court with the proposed consent order or disclosed later in the 25 action:
26
27 (A) Upon agreement of the parties;
28
29 (B) In any case involving either
30
31 (i) A self-represented litigant, or

37 sections 1010.6, 1011, 1012, and 1013 or rule 2.251 and be reasonably calculated to assure

38 delivery to the other party or parties no later than the close of business on the last

39 allowable day for service as specified below.

40

41 (b) Pretrial exchange for voluntary expedited jury trials

42

- 5 (2) A list of all witnesses whom the party intends to call at trial, except for witnesses to 46 required under this rule will be grounds for preclusion of the evidence at the time of trial.

2 (f) Pretrial conference for voluntary expedited jury trials

4 No later than 15 days before trial, unless that period is modified by the consent order, the

4 Rule 3.1549 Voir dire

6 ~~Approximately one hour will be devoted to voir dire, with 15 minutes allotted to the judicial~~
7 ~~officer and 15 minutes to each side.~~ Parties are encouraged to submit a joint form questionnaire

10 Rule 3.1550. Time limits
11

12 ~~Excluding~~ Including jury selection ~~voir dire~~, each side will be allowed ~~three~~ five hours to present 13 its case, including opening statements and closing arguments, unless the court, upon a finding of 14 good cause, allows additional time. The amount of time allotted for each side includes the time
15 that the side spends on cross-examination. The parties are encouraged to streamline the trial
16 process by limiting the number of live witnesses. The goal is to complete an expedited jury trial
17 within ~~one full~~ two trial days.
18

19 Rule 3.1551. Case presentation
20

21 (a) Methods of presentation
22

23 Upon agreement of the parties and with the approval of the judicial officer, the parties may 24 present summaries and may use photographs, diagrams, slides, electronic presentations, 25 overhead projections, individual notebooks of exhibits for submission to the jurors, or 26 other innovative methods of presentation approved at the pretrial conference.
27

28 (b) Exchange of items
29

30 Anything to be submitted to the jury under (a) as part of the evidentiary presentation of the 31 case in chief must be exchanged 20 days in advance of the trial, unless that period is 32 modified by the consent order or agreement of the parties. This rule does not apply to items
33 to be used solely for closing argument.
34

35 (c) Stipulations regarding facts
36

37 The parties should stipulate to factual and evidentiary matters to the greatest extent
38 possible.
39

40 Rule 3.1552. Presentation of evidence
41

42 (a) Stipulations regarding rules of evidence
43

44 The parties may offer such evidence as is relevant and material to the dispute. An 45 agreement to modify the rules of evidence for the trial made pursuant to the expedited jury
46 trial statutes commencing with Code of Civil Procedure section 630.01 may be included in

1 the consent order or agreement of the parties. To the extent feasible, the parties should 2 stipulate to modes and methods of presentation that will expedite the process, either in the 3 consent order or at the pretrial conference.

5 (b) Objections

7 Objections to evidence and motions to exclude evidence must be submitted in a timely
8 manner. Except as provided in rule 3.1548(f), failure to raise an objection before trial does 9 not preclude making an objection or motion to exclude at trial.
10

11 Rule ~~3.1553~~3.1546. Assignment of judicial officers
12

13 The presiding judge is responsible for the assignment of a judicial officer to conduct an 14 expedited jury trial. The presiding judge may assign a temporary judge appointed by the court
15 under rules 2.810–2.819 to conduct an expedited jury trial. A temporary judge requested by the 16 parties under rules 2.830–2.835, whether or not privately compensated, may not be appointed to 17 conduct ~~an~~ a voluntary expedited jury trial.

EJT-001-INFO Expedited Jury Trial Information Sheet

This information sheet is for anyone involved in a civil lawsuit who will be taking part in an expedited jury trial—a trial that is shorter and has a smaller jury than a traditional jury trial.

You can find the law and rules governing expedited jury trials in Code of Civil Procedure sections 630.01–630.29 and in rules 3.1545–3.1553 of the California Rules of Court. You can find these at any county law library or online. The statutes are online at <http://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/codes.xhtml>. The rules are at www.courts.ca.gov/rules.

1 What is an expedited jury trial?

An expedited jury trial is a short trial, generally lasting only one or two days. It is intended to be quicker and less expensive than a traditional jury trial.

As in a traditional jury trial, a jury will hear your case and will reach a decision about whether one side has to pay money to the other side. An expedited jury trial differs from a regular jury trial in several important ways:

- The trial will be shorter. Each side has 5 hours to pick a jury, put on all its witnesses, show the jury its evidence, and argue its case.
- The jury will be smaller. There will be 8 jurors instead of 12.
- Choosing the jury will be faster. The parties will exercise fewer challenges.

2 What cases have expedited jury trials?

- Mandatory expedited jury trials. All limited civil cases—cases where the demand for damages or the value of property at issue is $25,000 or less—come within the mandatory expedited jury trial procedures. These can be found in the Code of Civil Procedure, starting at section 630.20. Unless your case is an unlawful detainer (eviction) action, or meets one of the exceptions set out in the statute, it will be within the expedited jury trial procedures. These exceptions are explained more in 7 below.
- Voluntary expedited jury trials. If your civil case is not a limited civil case, or even if it is, you can choose to take part in a voluntary expedited jury trial, if all the parties agree to do so. Voluntary expedited jury trials have the same shorter time frame and smaller jury that the mandatory ones do, but have one other important aspect—all parties must waive their rights to appeal. In order to help keep down the costs of litigation, there are no appeals following a voluntary expedited jury trial except in very limited circumstances. These are explained more fully in 9.

3 Will the case be in front of a judge?

The trial will take place at a courthouse and a judge, or, if you agree, a temporary judge (a court commissioner or an experienced attorney that the court appoints to act as a judge) will handle the trial.

4 Does the jury have to reach a unanimous decision?

No. Just as in a traditional civil jury trial, only three-quarters of the jury must agree in order to reach a decision in an expedited jury trial. With 8 people on the jury, that means that at least 6 of the jurors must agree on the verdict in an expedited jury trial.

5 Is the decision of the jury binding on the parties?

Generally, yes, but not always. A verdict from a jury in an expedited jury trial is like a verdict in a traditional jury trial. The court will enter a judgment based on the verdict, the jury's decision that one or more defendants will pay money to the plaintiff or that the plaintiff gets no money at all.

But parties in an expedited jury trial, like in other kinds of trials, are allowed to make an agreement before the trial that guarantees that the defendant will pay a certain amount to the plaintiff even if the jury decides on a lower payment or no payment. That agreement may also put a cap on the highest amount that a defendant has to pay, even if the jury decides on a higher amount. These agreements are known as “high/low agreements.” You should discuss with your attorney whether you should enter into such an agreement in your case and how it will affect you.

6 How else is an expedited jury trial different?

The goal of the expedited jury trial process is to have shorter and less expensive trials.

- The cases that come within the mandatory expedited jury trial procedures are all limited civil actions, and they must proceed under the limited discovery and pretrial rules that apply to those actions. See Code of Civil Procedure sections 90–100.

- The voluntary expedited jury trial rules set up some special procedures to help those cases have shorter and less expensive trials. For example, the rules require that several weeks before the trial takes place, the parties show each other all exhibits and tell each other what witnesses will be at the trial. In addition, the judge will meet with the attorneys before the trial to work out some things in advance.

The other big difference is that the parties in either kind of expedited jury trial can make agreements about how the case will be tried so that it can be tried quickly and effectively. These agreements may include what rules will apply to the case, how many witnesses can testify for each side, what kind of evidence may be used, and what facts the parties already agree to and so do not need the jury to decide. The parties can agree to modify many of the rules that apply to trials generally or to any pretrial aspect of the expedited jury trials.

7 Do I have to have an expedited jury trial if my case is for $25,000 or less?

Not always. There are some exceptions.

- The mandatory expedited jury trial procedures do not apply to any unlawful detainer or eviction case.
- Any party may ask to opt out of the procedures if the case meets any of the criteria set out in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.20(b), all of which are also described in item 2 of the Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial (form EJT-003). Any request to opt out must be made on that form, and it must be made within a certain time period, as set out in Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.1546(c). Any opposition must be filed within 15 days after the request has been served.

The remainder of this information sheet applies only to voluntary expedited jury trials.

8 Who can take part in a voluntary expedited jury trial?

The process can be used in any civil case that the parties agree may be tried in one or two days. To have a voluntary expedited jury trial, both sides must want one. Each side must agree to all the rules described in 1, and to waive most appeal rights. The agreements between the parties must be put into writing in a document called [Proposed] Consent Order for Voluntary Expedited Jury Trial, which will be submitted to the court for approval. (Form EJT-020 may be used for this.) The court must issue the consent order as proposed by the parties unless the court finds good cause why the action should not proceed through the expedited jury trial process.

9 Why do I give up most of my rights to an appeal in a voluntary expedited jury trial?

To keep costs down and provide a faster end to the case, all parties who agree to take part in a voluntary expedited jury trial must agree to waive the right to appeal the jury verdict or decisions by the judicial officer concerning the trial unless one of the following happens:

- Misconduct of the judicial officer that materially affected substantial rights of a party;
- Misconduct of the jury; or
- Corruption or fraud or some other bad act that prevented a fair trial.

In addition, parties may not ask the judge to set the jury verdict aside, except on those same grounds. Neither you nor the other side will be able to ask for a new trial on the grounds that the jury verdict was too high or too low, that legal mistakes were made before or during the trial, or that new evidence was found later.

10 Can I change my mind after agreeing to a voluntary expedited jury trial?

No, unless the other side or the court agrees. Once you and the other side have agreed to take part in a voluntary expedited jury trial, that agreement is binding on both sides. It can be changed only if both sides want to change it or stop the process or if a court decides there are good reasons the voluntary expedited jury trial should not be used in the case. This is why it is important to talk to your attorney before agreeing to a voluntary expedited jury trial. This information sheet does not cover everything you may need to know about voluntary expedited jury trials. It only gives you an overview of the process and how it may affect your rights. You should discuss all the points covered here and any questions you have about expedited jury trials with an attorney before agreeing to a voluntary expedited jury trial.

—INSTRUCTIONS—

1. This form is to be used by any party in a limited civil action seeking to opt out of the mandatory expedited jury trial procedures set out in Code of Civil Procedure sections 630.20–630.29. Those procedures are also described in the Expedited Jury Trial Information Sheet (form EJT-001-INFO).
2. The law provides that mandatory expedited jury trial procedures apply to all limited civil cases (except for unlawful detainer or eviction cases), unless the case meets one of the criteria set out in Code of Civil Procedure section 630.20(b). Those are listed on the front of this form, at items 2a–2i. If a case fits into one of those criteria, either party may ask to opt out of the mandatory expedited jury trial procedures.
3. If you want to opt out: If you believe the case meets one of the criteria listed in item 2 and you want to opt out of the expedited jury trial procedures, fill out this form, serve a copy on all other parties in the case, and file the original with the court along with a proof of service (you can use form POS-040 for this). The form should be served and filed at least 45 days before the date first set for trial. If you have good cause for filing it later, explain that in item 3.
4. Documentation not required: It is not necessary to submit documentary evidence with this application, which is based on statements being made under penalty of perjury. You may submit such evidence if you believe it to be necessary or appropriate.
5. If you receive a copy of this form: If you disagree that the the case meets any of the criteria listed in item 2, you can object. To do that, fill out the Objection to Request to Opt Out of Mandatory Expedited Jury Trial Procedures (form EJT-004), serve a copy on all other parties in the case, and file the original with the court along with a proof of service (you can use form POS-040 for this). You must file the objection within 15 days of the date the request was served on you.
6. Court action: After the court has reviewed the request and any objection that has been filed within 15 days, the court will issue an order that will do one of the following:
  - a. grant the request,
  - b. deny the request, or
  - c. set a hearing to hear further from the parties.
7. Criteria For Opt-Out No Longer Applicable: Parties should be aware that they are to promptly inform the court if the ground or grounds which supported the opt out of this case from Mandatory EJT are no longer applicable, and the court may require the case be tried as an expedited jury trial.

1.	California Defense Counsel by Michael Belote	AM	With very minor suggestions for amendments, the California Defense Counsel agrees with the proposed rules and thanks the Judicial Council for the prompt and thorough work in this area. Our comments focus on the four questions propounded on page 7 of the Request for Comments. 1. On balance, the proposed rules appropriately address the stated purposes of the statute relating to mandatory expedited jury trials. In particular, the rules provide simple, easy to understand provisions for requesting expedited jury trials, opting out of "EJT" treatment, objecting to requests to opt-out, etc. The simple approach embodied in the proposed rules benefits litigants, lawyers, and the courts. For example, we believe that the rules appropriately relieve lawyers of any responsibility to provide documentation to the court in support of a request to opt-out, because the lawyer is declaring under penalty of perjury that a ground to opt out exists. It is only when there is an objection to a request to opt out that lawyers should be required to submit any documentation in support of the opt-out request. At that point, the court should schedule a hearing and require the parties to submit evidence in support of the opt-out request or objection. For clarity, we suggest that the instructions for Form EJT-003 should contain language informing parties that	The committee notes the general agreement with the proposal. 1. The committee agrees that the procedure should be a simple one, particularly when the opt-out request is based on a ground on which a party has the right to opt out, with no finding required by the court. The committee agrees with this suggestion and has added a new instruction to form EJT-003 to

			no documentary evidence need be submitted in connection with an opt-out request. 2. With respect to deadlines to opt out of expedited jury trial provisions, we generally believe that requests to opt out should be submitted as early as possible in the litigation. We are concerned about timelines for opting out and objecting to opt-outs for cases filed prior to July 1, 2016. The proposed rules presently provide that parties seeking to opt out of cases filed before July 1, 2016 file and serve the request at least 10 days before trial, with a party opposing the request required to serve the opposition within 15 days after the request to opt out. This will be difficult for requests to opt out submitted very close to trial dates. We suggest that for pre-July cases, requests to opt out be required at least 30 days before trial dates, providing time for any objections to be filed well in advance of trial dates. Some cases set for trial very shortly after the July 1 effective date of the law are simply going to require some special handling by courts. The 45-day timeframe for opting out of EJT provisions for cases filed after July 1, 2016 is appropriate. 3. With respect to the question concerning cases where grounds for opting out no longer exist, we believe that the rules should address this situation. The rules should provide that cases should be returned to mandatory EJT when the	reflect this. 2. The committee understands the concerns about the short amount of notice proposed for opt outs in cases filed before July 1, 2016, and had modified the rule to require that requests for opt outs in those cases, as in the later-filed cases, be filed 45 days before the next date set for trial. Objections are to be filed within 15 days after service of the request. Exceptions to those deadlines are permitted for good cause, in order, among other things, to allow courts to specially handle any cases set for trial shortly after the law goes into operation. 3. The committee has considered this comment and has modified the rules to require that if the grounds on which a party or parties have opted out of mandatory expedited jury trial procedures no longer apply to a case, the parties must

We suspect in some cases that parties who opt out may not inform opposing counsel when the grounds for opting out no longer exist, so perhaps a mechanism needs to be created where the party who opts out affirms that the basis for the opt-out still exists. However, with regards to proposed form EJT-003, CAOC believes the good cause opt out should be distinguished from the other automatic opt outs. Opt outs established by CCP § 630.20 subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(8) are all objectively established due to their nature. For example, either a case involves a claim of intentional conduct or it does not. Thus, a party can merely check a box to allege one of these automatic opt outs. The final opt out is a “good cause” catch all, and is intended for cases where parties require more than five hours to present or defend their action and the parties are unable to stipulate to more time or some other scenario to be argued to the judge as to why the case should not proceed as an Expedited Jury Trial. This subheading would provide clarity regarding the different procedure entailed for the good cause opt out and ensure that a party must both allege why their case should not proceed as an EJT and obtain approval from the court. Thank you for your attention to this matter.
3.	Orange County Bar Association by Todd G. Friedland, President	AM	Form EJT-003 should be modified to inform the attorney/party that if one of the criteria relied upon initially to opt out of Mandatory EJT under C.C.P. section 630.20(b) is no longer applicable at the time of trial, then the court may require the case to proceed as an expedited jury trial (EJT). This would be a more transparent means of informing the parties they may still be subject to an EJT, even if there was an initial, valid reason to opt out. [Even if a rule is not developed to clarify that a case can be returned to mandatory EJT status when appropriate, even after an opt-out has been approved by the Court, it seems, in the absence of a rule specifying one way or the other as to whether the case can be returned to mandatory EJT status, there is the specter of a court concluding that the case should be returned to mandatory EJT status, perhaps by the court exercising its authority or purported authority	The committee notes the commenter’s general agreement with the proposal, and its requested modification of form EJT-003. Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose? In part. The stated purpose of the proposal (W 16-02) seems to be to develop procedures for opting out, along with other rules and forms appropriate for mandatory EJTs. While much headway is made via the forms and rules proposed, there is more to be done (as explained further here). Specifically, we consider it important to have rules that promote certainty for the litigants with sufficient time to allow them to prepare for an EJT versus a “full” jury trial. We believe there is different preparation and different strategizing involved for an EJT versus a “full” jury trial and it burdens, possibly prejudices, parties and their counsel to prepare for one versus the other (or, worse, to have to change on very short notice from one to the other). As such, we suggest a specific period be specified in the rules (of at least 20, possibly 30, days before trial) in which the parties should be notified of a change (or	1. The committee has considered the commenter’s concerns, and the suggestion that the rule mandate that the court provide 20 or 30 days’ notice to the parties before returning a case that has been opted out of mandatory expedited jury trial procedures back to those procedures should the grounds for opting out no longer apply. The committee disagrees that such a specific rule is needed in light of the different circumstances that might apply, and believe the timing of the trial date is best left in the discretion of the court. The committee notes that it has modified the proposed rule to mandate that the parties must inform the court of any such change promptly, which may alleviate some of the commenter’s concerns about late notice of a return to the expedited jury trial procedures.

Since the request is to filed and served at least 45 days before trial (in the absence of good cause for a shorter time period), it might make sense to require that the Court issue its Order on Request to Opt Out (proposed EJT-005) at least 20 days before trial (thus giving enough time for any Objection to the opt out to be filed and considered, while allowing some period of time before trial for the parties to know whether they are going through an EJT or non-EJT). We acknowledge the suggestion in the proposal that the only impact of a non-EJT case versus EJT is that it will “use more jurors” and take “somewhat longer” than the two to three days an EJT will take, but we feel that it’s a substantially different enough experience and, in some cases, the difference may be more than taking the case just “somewhat longer” to try, justifying significant notice to the parties of what kind of jury trial they will be participating in.	The committee considered this suggestion that the rules mandate how fast a court must act on a request to opt out of the expedited jury trial procedures, but declined to recommend such a rule, at least at this time. Most of the criteria for opting out are objective factors, the existence of which mandate under the statute that a party may opt out of the mandatory expedited jury procedures. (See Code Civ. Proc. § 630.20(b)(1)-(8). Therefore once a party is served with the request, the party will generally know whether the opt out will be granted. In addition, there is no reason to believe that courts will delay action on any of these requests. 4.	State Bar of California, Committee on Administration of Justice San Francisco, CA	A	1. Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose? Yes. CAJ believes the proposal appropriately addresses the purpose in amending and adopting rules and forms on both mandatory and voluntary EJTs. 2. Is the deadline for requesting to opt out of an expedited jury trial provided in proposed rule 3.1546(c) appropriate, or should the rule provide for a deadline significantly earlier in the case? CAJ believes there is some risk that allowing parties to exercise their right to opt out of an EJT as late as 45 days before the date first set for trial could result in gamesmanship between parties. In many cases, the ground for opting out should be evident from the outset of the case. If a party chooses not to opt out, there may be an assumption that the case will be tried as an EJT, and pre-trial preparation would proceed accordingly. It might then be unfair if, much later in the case and 45 days before trial, the case were to become a traditional jury trial. Accordingly, CAJ believes the deadline for requesting to opt out of an expedited jury trial should be earlier than 45 days before the date first set for trial.	1. The committee notes the commenter’s general agreement with the proposal. 2. The committee has considered the commenter’s suggestion that the deadline for requesting opt-outs should be earlier in a case, but disagrees. While it is true that with an earlier deadlines, the parties would know from earlier in the case whether they were likely to be engaging in an EJT. The committee noted, however, that some of the criteria could change over the course of a case. Moreover, pretrial procedures in these limited civil actions will remain the same whether or not the eventual trial is an EJT. The primary impacts of opting out of the mandatory EJT procedures will be that the regular jury trial will use more jurors at trial and may take somewhat longer to try than the two to three days an EJT will take. In light of these considerations, the committee concluded there was not good reason to limit a party’s ability to opt out to early in the case.

Although the court generally retains their discretion to do this, CAJ believes there should be a rule to clarify this authority. 4. Are the current pretrial rules for voluntary expedited jury trials in rule 3.1548 overly burdensome? 5.	State Bar of California, Litigation Section, Rules and Legislation Committee by Reuben A. Ginsburg, Chair San Francisco, CA	AM	a. We believe the pretrial exchange and pretrial conference for voluntary EJT’s are beneficial and are not overly burdensome, particularly when the parties can stipulate to change the requirements and the timing. We would not change the current rules regarding these requirements other than as recommended in the proposal. b. We consider the current 45-day deadline to opt out of mandatory EJT appropriate, and we would not favor an earlier deadline. An earlier deadline would force parties to opt out sooner when some parties that could opt out, if allowed more time to consider the benefits of EJT and decide that the case is suitable for EJT, might decide not to opt out. c. We believe the rules should state explicitly that the court may order a mandatory EJT if the grounds for opting out no longer apply. 10.	TCPJAC/CEAC Joint Rules Subcommittee on behalf of the Trial Court Presiding Judges Advisory Committee (TCPJAC) and the Court Executives Advisory Committee (CEAC).
